State Department May Confer With Eisenhower About Iran

Formula Might Bring No Final End to Dispute, May Bring Cash

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—State Department officials are expected to confer with President-elect Eisenhower or his representatives next week on a new formula for solving the Iranian problem.

It is understood also that the new approach is a subject for discussion between Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Eden in their talk in New York.

The central idea of the formula seems designed to get Iranian oil flowing out and money for it flowing in again at the earliest possible moment — without final settlement of the dispute between Iran and Britain over nationalization of Iran's oil industry.

Collapse Becomes Danger

State Department authorities feel that the longer the present impasse continues — and various Iranian agencies like the army and Civil Service go unpaid—the greater becomes the danger of a collapse of civil authority and the rise of Communist power in this strategic middle eastern land.

In the past these authorities have worked on the theory that a legal settlement of the Anglo-Iranian dispute, critical since Iran seized British-owned oil properties there last year, should logically precede or be a part of any settlement reviving the oil industry under Iranian control. But the new approach would relegate legal settlement to a lesser priority.

Lodge Is Liaison Man

Eisenhower will have a chance to hear about this plan when he meets with President Truman—next Tuesday, according to the White House—to prepare for an orderly change of administrations. Eisenhower has designated Sen. Lodge (R.-Mass.) as his State Department liaison man.

Despite appeals from Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and President Truman, Iranian Premier Mossadegh has failed to agree to any settlement formula thus far put forward. On the contrary, Mossadegh last month broke relations with the British government, wrecking plans in progress up to that time and somewhat deepening the dispute.

Informants do not appear highly optimistic about the new proposition. But they feel the United States must go on trying to find a way out because of Iran's strategic importance to the west.

For the proposal to succeed, the British would have to agree to let oil begin moving out of Iran to world markets again without having final agreement on the amount of compensation Iran should pay for the nationalized properties. Mossadegh so far has not even agreed on a way of determining compensation. Apparently, he too would have to give some on this point if a new proposition is to work.

Three Are Arraigned On Charges of Fraud

Trio Took Benefit Cash Illegally, State Attorney Declares

Three persons were arraigned before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today on charges of violating the state labor law in allegedly obtaining unemployment benefit checks by fraud.

Sidney M. Tannen, special agent for the State Department of Labor, said he investigated and made the complaints which resulted in the arrest of Emma Gordon, 49, of 1-3 Canal street, this city; William C. Moon, 47, of the Rosendale road, and Eugene Nicholas, 36, of West Shokan, on the charges.

State Counsel Present

Charles G. Coffin, assistant attorney general in charge of prosecution of such offenses, was present when the three were brought before Judge Mino today.

The woman and Nicholas, Coffin said, pleaded guilty and were given a sentence of 30 days in jail the execution of which was suspended on the provision that they make restitution. Moon pleaded not guilty and is to obtain counsel.

Coffin said the state is bearing down on labor law violations, and the arrests here were the first made in Ulster county for alleged violations of the unemployment insurance laws. Investigation is

Ike and HST Will Meet Next Week

President-Elect Shares Truman Hope Unity May Be Theme Upon Basic Issues

But Won't Decide

Any Rulings Made Prior to Jan. 20 to Be of Truman Government

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 13 (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower reportedly will steer clear of any policy commitments to President Truman when they confer at the White House.

Eisenhower associates who asked not to be named said his role at the conference will be mainly that of a listener, although they emphasized that he agrees with the President that the session will amount to a demonstration of American unity.

The White House announced yesterday that the Eisenhower-Truman meeting has been set for 2 p. m. Tuesday.

In proposing the meeting last week, the President said it would help achieve an orderly transition from the old administration to the new. He mentioned a need for discussion of world problems.

Seeks Cross Section

Eisenhower replied that he shared Truman's hope "that we may present to the world an American unity in basic issues."

Over the week-end, the President-elect's headquarters put out a statement which said in effect that any pre-inauguration conferences with Truman administration officials would in no way bind the President-elect as to Republican policy.

The statement was intended to make it clear, the general's associates said, that any policy decisions before inauguration day—Jan. 20—would be the responsibility of the out-going administration.

Eisenhower reportedly feels strongly that it would be a mistake for him to deal in any other way at Tuesday's meeting—in either the international or the domestic fields.

Seeks Cross-Section

Eisenhower, meanwhile, is seeking a cross section of Republican leaders' views on the Korean war situation in advance of his trip to the war zone.

That is one of the major purposes of a series of conferences the general will hold next week. He will confer at his vacation retreat here tomorrow with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

GOP congressional leaders will be among those on Eisenhower's calling list when he returns to his New York headquarters next week.

Aides said the President-elect wants to talk over the Korean problem with Dewey, and possibly some Congress members, before he confers with Truman.

Study Is Planned

In expectation that Korea will be on the White House conference agenda, Eisenhower is planning a study of that matter with Dewey, who will arrive here by plane about noon tomorrow.

The New York governor visited the Korean battlefront in 1951 and he has made a special study of U. S. foreign policy toward the Far East.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said yesterday the general intends to discuss his forthcoming trip to Korea, as well as other policy matters, with Dewey.

Eisenhower pledged during the campaign that if elected he would go to Korea in an effort to find some way to an honorable peace.

No date has been set for the trip, Hagerty says, but the speculation generally has been that the general will leave the United States late this month or perhaps early in December.

Will See Taft

Among those the general plans to see in New York before departing are Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, and Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, who is slated to become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when the Republicans take over control of Congress in January. House leaders also will be consulted.

Eisenhower reportedly will dis-

Pulling Out of South

Newell Anderson, 26-year-old Tupelo Daily Journal circulation manager, and his wife pack to leave Tupelo, Miss., a few hours ahead of a deadline set by two hooded men. They plan to drive to his native Fargo, N. D., home. Anderson told police the men took him for a wild midnight ride Nov. 10 and roughed him up. One of the men said he "didn't like Yankees around," Anderson said. (AP Wirephoto).

Newsman, Wife Go North; 'Something More' Hinted

Civic Leaders to Get Facts, Maynard Says—Gun Is Returned

Tupelo, Miss., Nov. 13 (AP)—Newell Anderson and his pretty wife were on their way back to their native North Dakota today because, the 26-year-old newsman said, he had been warned to leave here on grounds that he is a Yankee.

The couple started driving to Fargo, N. D., late yesterday about one hour ahead of the ultimatum which Anderson said was set by two hooded men after they roughed him up on a wild automobile ride Monday night.

"We don't like foreigners coming in here and you'd better get out of town," Anderson said the men told him.

Anderson, who had been circulation manager of the Tupelo Journal for six weeks, said he had received anonymous telephone threats for two weeks.

Mother-in-Law Astonished

Anderso'ns mother-in-law, Mrs. A. E. Wiken, said at Grand Forks, N. D., that she was astonished.

"I'm sure if a southerner came to live in North Dakota, a similar situation would never come about," she said. "We in the north don't treat people like that."

Mrs. Wiken said she was glad the Andersons were returning to North Dakota. Mrs. Lawrence Anderson, the newsman's mother, made a similar statement at Fargo.

Mayor Gives View

Mayor George Maynard said that "the business of him (Anderson) being a 'damn Yankee' had nothing to do with his leaving. There is something more behind it."

Maynard and other civic leaders in this northeast Mississippi town of 15,000 said they would get the true facts of the case "in order to remove the unjustified black eye against Tupelo and the south."

Before he left on the 1,300-mile trip, Anderson returned a gun which police had lent him. "I couldn't shoot anybody, anyway," he said.

Anderson said he and his wife had been offered around-the-clock police protection for 30 days if they decided to stay.

"We got to thinking about what would happen after those 30 days and decided to leave," he added.

Toplitz Balks At Crime Probe

Former Tammany Leader Refuses to Relate His Business

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—A state probe of underworld political power opened on a stormy note today, with a former Tammany Hall leader balking at answering questions about his business.

Alfred Toplitz, first witness before a public hearing by the New York State Crime Commission, said that to answer might "incriminate and degrade" him.

The curtain-raising session also was marked by harsh exchanges between Commission Chairman Joseph M. Proskauer and Harold R. Kaplan, attorney for Toplitz.

Twice, Proskauer broke into objections raised by the lawyer, and told him curtly:

"Take all the exceptions you please, but you're not to be heard here. Your power here is to advise your client as to his rights. This is not a trial."

Links Are Sought

The commission is seeking to bring out any criminal-political links, and to explore what influence underworld elements wield over politicians and their appointments.

Toplitz, a former Tammany (Manhattan Democratic organization) district leader, refused to say what business he was engaged in while he was chief clerk of the board of elections.

He said he was appointed to the elections board post by Frank Sampson, now administrative assistant to Mayor Vincent Impellitteri, and served from March, 1948, to December, 1950.

Constitutional Grounds

Amid thrusts between his attorney and Proskauer, Toplitz said he was withholding an answer about his business at the time, on constitutional grounds that it might incriminate him.

However, Toplitz admitted that he was discharged as a Treasury Department prohibition agent in 1922, after serving about a year, after he was charged with the theft of 4,900 cases of liquor.

"You are formally charged with the crime?" he was asked.

"A number were charged," Toplitz said. "I wasn't guilty of the charge and I want the record to show it." He said the case was not prosecuted.

Toplitz testified that his political club now had "very few jobs" to dispense, and that "we lost our jobs" when Impellitteri became mayor.

Two Women Escape

Whitehall, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Two White Plains women escaped serious injury yesterday when their automobile hurtled down a 75-foot sloping embankment off Route 4. State police said Katherine Luby, 60, (New York Hospital, White Plains) suffered a fracture of the left arm and was treated by a Whitehall physician. Mabel Stimpson, 46, of (121 Westchester avenue), identified by police as the owner and operator, was not injured, troopers said. The women were traveling south when the car skidded on ice on the approach to an overpass between here and Comstock.

Planes Pour Flames on Red Chinese

ROKs Mop Up Pinpoint Hill They Captured in Heroic Charge on Wednesday

Action Is Confined

Communists Still Dug In on Control Area of Sniper Ridge

Seoul, Nov. 13 (AP)—U. S. warplanes today poured flaming jellied gasoline, bombs and machine gun fire on entrenched Chinese Reds in the Sniper Ridge-Triangle Hill area on Korea's bleak central front.

Victorious South Korean infantrymen, meanwhile, mopped up Red remnants around Pinpoint Hill, dominant height on blood-soaked Sniper. The Republic of Korea (ROK) troops recaptured Pinpoint Wednesday in a heroic artillery-supported charge.

Allied mortar and tank fire chopped up three small Red infantry probes against allied positions at Jackson Heights, south of Ironhorse Mountains on the central front.

Southwest of Kumsong on the the eastern front, an allied raiding party killed or wounded an estimated 52 Reds in an hour and half of close-in fighting.

Only Patrol Skirmishes

Elsewhere along the 155-mile battleline, action today was confined to patrol skirmishes.

AP war correspondent John Rondolph, on the central front, reported no further Chinese attacks on Pinpoint.

But Chinese Communists were still dug in on the Yoke, a maze of tunnels and caves at the northern end of Sniper that has been the key to firm control of that ridge.

It was from those caverns that the Reds spewed reinforcements Tuesday, when they drove the South Koreans off Pinpoint. Wednesday's ROK charge, successful in regaining Pinpoint for the 14th time in the 31-day battle for the Kumhwa ridges, failed to dislodge the Communists from the Yoke.

Highest Casualty List

(Washington's weekly casualty report reflected the cost of the recent heavy hill fighting. The Defense Department reported 1,318 U. S. battle casualties for the week ending last Friday. It was the largest weekly list of the year. (The list included 266 killed, bringing the war's total of killed in action to 19,712. It brought the total of all casualties—dead, missing, and wounded—to 125,887.)

North Korean Communists attacking UN positions on the eastern front last night found themselves blocked by torrid streams of flaming napalm. An allied staff officer said the Eighth Army troops probably had drums of napalm on their defense lines and detonated them when the enemy approached.

Clouds Shield Enemy

The weather was the best today in three days, but a cloud cover still shielded most of North Korea from really effective air attacks.

Propellor driven Mustangs bombed a Red troop concentration area northeast of Suan. Pilots reported about 55 buildings were leveled.

Shooting Star jets bombed another troop concentration in the same area, destroying about 15 buildings.

Fighter bombers flew close support missions along the battlelines.

Arabs Boycott West Germany

Bonn, Germany, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Arab states have already imposed an unofficial "creeping boycott" on West German firms and canceled contracts worth millions of dollars in an effort to force the Bonn government to scrap its agreement to pay reparations to Israel, a spokesman for German industrial associations reported today.

While the Arab League is still withholding formal announcement of measures it intends against Germany, contracts are already being canceled at a rate of at least six a day, the spokesman said.

"The pinch is on and it is getting worse," he added, "and it is not only in the Middle East. It is already evident in Pakistan. Furthermore, it is not unlikely that the Arabs will carry out their threats to force a boycott all the way around to Indonesia."

Boat Captain Seized, Held As Murderer

A man accused of beating his common-law wife into insensibility and throwing her into the Hudson river was arrested late last night on his barge at the Callanan Road Improvement Company dock on the Rondout creek at New Salem.

August DeBarros, 47, a barge captain, was taken after questioning here to Westchester county, where he faces a murder charge.

DeBarros' arrest followed quickly the identification on Wednesday of a body taken from the river near Croton-on-Hudson on Nov. 7 as that of Mary DeBarros, 48.

Trace to Dock

A call for DeBarros' apprehension was sent out and state police traced his barge to the Callanan dock, where state police learned it was unloading stone at 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Cpl. B. J. Herron of the state police Kingston station; Trooper John Metzer, B. C. I.; Police Chief Daniel Murphy, Lieutenant Leo Powers and Patrolman Basil Garzia, of North Tarrytown, and Troopers Harry Broadbent and James Leary of Troop K at Hawthorne boarded the barge and took its captain into custody.

Taken to Hawthorne

After questioning at the Kingston state police station early today, DeBarros was taken to Hawthorne for fingerprinting and to be arraigned today in Westchester county on a murder charge.

The investigation began in North Tarrytown on Nov. 7 when New York Central Railroad track crews dragged the body of an unidentified woman, clad only in a half-slip and stockings, from the river off that community.

Identification was made on Wednesday after state police had been called to check fingerprints.

The body had marks indicating the woman had been badly beaten, troopers said.

Alarm Is Sent Out

After identification was made, an alarm was sent out for the arrest of DeBarros, described by troopers as the dead woman's "common law" husband. Through his employer, the Jacobus Barge Company of 116 John street, New

Chinese Says Reds Do Not Seek Truce

Stalin and Stooges Rapped by Yeh, Who Cites 'Intentions'

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Nationalist China's Foreign Minister George K. C. Yeh charged today that "Stalin and his Communist stooges do not really want a truce" in Korea and called on the UN to declare communism a threat to the world's peace and security.

Making his country's major policy address to the UN's 60-nation General Assembly, Yeh said the Chinese Reds have suffered such huge casualties that the Peiping government does not dare to face its people "empty-handed."

Although it is commonly assumed that only the question of sending home prisoners is holding up a truce, Yeh declared, the fundamental problem is that the

Psychiatrist Warns Those Who Drink Before Dinner

By FRANK CAREY
(AP Science Reporter)

Miami, Fla., Nov. 13 (AP)—The "social drinker" who imbibes two highballs every night before dinner may be in danger of becoming an incipient alcoholic, a psychiatrist from Richmond, Va., said today.

Dr. Howard R. Masters said "it has always been my belief that the normal, well-integrated individual who drinks socially will not become an alcoholic unless through disease, injury or conditioning there is some personality change for which he is not entirely responsible."

But, he told the Southern Medical Association, there's a possibility that regular drinking every night before dinner can build up such a "conditioning" in a "normal social drinker."

Such an individual, he added, might establish a "conditioned reflex demand" for alcohol so that "when an environmental situation becomes intolerable and he is physically or psychologically unable to meet the situation, he may become an incipient alcoholic and potentially a sick man."

The doctor read a prepared address at the closing session of the SMA's 46 annual meeting.

Speaking of the "problem" of alcoholism to business, industry, and also to the professions, the Medical College of Virginia doctor asserted:

"Any time an individual drinks enough to be absent or late to his work and low on the job he is drinking too much and, if this is a regular or frequently recurring thing, he may be classified as chronic alcoholic."

It is estimated, he said, that there are between three and five million "excessive" drinkers in the United States, "and of these some 800,000 or more are chronic excessive drinkers and may be classified chronic alcoholics."

A Yale researcher on alcoholism has estimated, Dr. Masters added, "that in a given year excessive drinking caused the loss of approximately 30 million working days, and that the loss in wages in that year was 432 million dollars."

"This does not include production or monetary loss to industry," he added.

Democrat Makes Overtures To Morse for Caucus Rights

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.) said today Democratic senators should welcome Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon into their party caucus if he wants to come.

Morse, turning against President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower during the presidential campaign, quit the Republican party to support Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic nominee, and declared himself an independent.

Whether Republican senators will take reprisals against Morse in the new Senate convening Jan. 3, possibly depriving him of his present choice committee assignments, is uncertain.

Humphrey, a leader of the "New Deal-Fair Deal" wing of the Democratic party, told a reporter the Democrats should throw open the door to Morse.

He said the Oregon senator, who frequently has voted with the Democrats in the past, "demonstrated real courage" in his bolt from the Republican party and "ought to be rewarded" with committee assignments and otherwise.

On the other hand, Humphrey said that Democratic senators who "turn their backs on the national party ticket also ought to receive their reward"—in less preferential treatment.

The matter of reprisals against Democrats who "supported the opposition" should be considered in connection with committee assignments, Humphrey said, at the caucus of Democratic senators early next year.

In a separate interview, Sen. Hunt (D.-Wyo.), said anyone who used the Democratic party to get nominated and then supported the Republicans "doesn't belong in the Democratic caucus."

He said a sign reading "no Republicans invited" should be hung on the door when the Senate Democrats caucus.

Neither Hunt nor Humphrey called any names.

Senator-elect Price Daniel of Texas, a Democrat who had Republican endorsement, campaigned openly for Eisenhower. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia Democratic leader, stopped short of urging Eisenhower's election but he disavowed the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket.

In Nevada Sen. Pat McCarran, another veteran Democrat, worked for the re-election of Republican Sen. George Malone and also exchanged barbed remarks with Stevenson.

Abel Loses Job As Bank Leader

Mineola, Nov. 13 (AP)—William H. Abel, indicted in an alleged $480,000 swindle, was fired yesterday from his $13,000-a-year job as president of the Central National Bank of Mineola by the board of directors.

The directors said the dismissal "is not intended nor should it be construed in any way as a prejudgment of Mr. Abel."

Abel, 45, was discharged at about the time he pleaded innocent in Nassau county court to a forgery and conspiracy indictment in connection with the alleged swindle of the bank.

Pleas of innocence were made also by Mrs. Lillian B. Robinson, 47, head of the Ideal Insulators, Inc., a home improvement concern in Roslyn, N. Y.; and two former bookkeepers for the firm. They are James McCarthy, 41, of Mineola, and James J. Golden, 37, of Flushing, Queens.

Released in Bail

Abel and Mrs. Robinson were released in $40,000 bail each to await trial. McCarthy and Golden were freed in $5,000 bail each. Mrs. Robinson had been in jail for two months in lieu of bail. The indictment was handed up Monday night.

Mrs. Robinson is accused of swindling the bank through hundreds of allegedly falsified loan applications and certificates of completion of home improvement jobs. The other defendants are accused on various counts in the alleged swindle.

The bank directors named Mead W. Stone, formerly of Garden City, N. Y., and a director of the bank for 16 years as president. He will take over Dec. 1 after he leaves his present post in Washington as chief of the farm equipment section's machinery branch in the Office of Price Stabilization. Until Dec. 1, William H. Behrer, of Garden City, chairman of the board of directors, will continue to run the bank's affairs.

Health for All

Are You Eating Too Much

Thanksgiving Day ushers in the holiday season. Once again, we'll be laughing and reminiscing with old friends and relatives around the "groaning board," blissfully unaware of how much we are eating or drinking. Most of us will take the extra helping of turkey with stuffing or the second piece of pumpkin pie in stride as part of the holiday fun.

Eating, of course, should be fun. But overeating is something else again; it never did anybody any good. Worrying unnecessarily about what you eat won't help either. Eaters in good health can usually offset too hearty a dinner by resuming smaller, but still regular, meals the day after. Still, the holiday season, when the temptations of rich food are traditionally with us, is a good time to take stock of our eating habits.

Most of us tend to eat too much, especially fried or starchy foods, and to eat too fast. Too often the penalty is digestive troubles, or worse. Overeating usually results in overweight, and overweight, as your doctor will tell you, puts added strain on the heart, kidney, liver, and other vital organs. It may result in high blood pressure, or such serious illnesses as heart and circulatory diseases, diabetes, and arthritis. Doctors have reason to believe that excess weight, especially in persons over 30, can actually shorten life.

For the great majority of us the best way to avoid overweight is through sensible eating habits. The most healthful diet provides the proper balance between proteins and carbohydrates, supplies minerals, fats, and vitamins, and the needed number of calories. These needs vary with the individual, according to his size, build, and physical activity, but most of us eat more than we need.

The best meals are appetizing, nourishing, and varied. Holiday meals need not be an exception. Most of us can benefit from main dishes like turkey, taken in moderation, and from the variety of vegetables and fruits usually served, including the traditional cranberry sauce. But we can also benefit by taking it easy in sampling rich dressings and gravies and heavy, calorie-loaded desserts like mince pie and plum pudding.

A closing word of caution to those who want to lose weight. There are no short cuts. The best advice is to see your doctor. He can prescribe a balanced and appetizing diet for taking off excess pounds and also for improving your general health.

Hearings Started On 1953 Budget

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Gov. Dewey's budget chief started formal hearings for department heads today with the hope that New York's 1953-54 budget could be balanced without increasing taxes.

Director T. Norman Hurd of the budget division was to huddle during the day with representatives of five state agencies for a review of their requirements in the coming fiscal year, which begins April 1.

Listed for today's closed meetings were the State Health Department, the State Police, the State Agriculture Department, the Civil Defense Commission and the Division of Veteran's Affairs.

The formal hearings will continue through Nov. 25.

Although Hurd had no comment in advance for the meetings, it is known he and his budget aides will stress a demand for strict economy, made by Dewey in a letter to all state agencies Sept. 2.

At that time, Dewey directed that any requests for new or expanded state services be examined "most carefully."

Rising costs and a demand by state workers for a "substantial" pay increase are two of the problems that must be solved by the budget-makers for the coming year.

The 1952-53 state budget lists a total of $1,109,000,000 in appropriations—the state's first billion-dollar spending program.

New Map of Canada

Ottawa, Canada (AP)—A new map of Canada, the first new one in 22 years, will soon be rolling off the presses giving an up-to-date topographical picture of the country from the 49th paralled to the North Pole. Newfoundland which joined the confederation in 1949, gets on the map as part of Canada for the first time. New island, lakes, rivers and towns previously unshown or even unknown, will be on the map. The 36-inch square map will have some 7,000 place names. The only roads shown will be those in the north and the Alaska Highway and the Mackenzie Highway.

TREND OF KOREAN WAR

Unmistakably the American people are out of sympathy with the present trend of the Korean war. Polls show they favor extending the fighting even at risk of World War III, or if that is not practicable, pulling our troops off the peninsula.

There can be no question that the presidential campaign just concluded sharply intensified the emotions of the ordinary American on the Korean issue.

But it is important to realize that the major candidates did not create those emotions. They were there before the campaign began. Close observers of American voting habits, in surveys made back in the late spring, detected at that time a deep-running current of feeling against the Korean war.

The strength of that original feeling can be judged from the fact that so many say they are willing to risk a larger conflict to get this war ended. No candidate at any time made any such drastic proposal.

In any event, it would not be fair to ascribe this situation to the extremes of campaign oratory. Nor is it fair to say that Korea as an issue had no place in the campaign.

When the United States is committed to a war, whether it be big or small, that war must be fought with the support of all the people. The lives of Americans cannot be put in jeopardy by half-hearted backing from home.

But that does not mean we may not honestly inquire into the question how we got into such a war, or whether that war is being wisely and effectively conducted.

War is not a course of action we take for granted; it is a last resort. And it can be an acknowledgment of the failure of other means short of war. We have a right to ask why a last resort was necessary. Were mistakes made? If so, who was responsible?

To say that these questions cannot be asked, to keep silent in the name of a unified or bipartisan, foreign policy, is to throw out the window the whole idea of political accountability. In other words, we act in this country on the theory that the men in positions of governmental power should be held accountable for acts of government which take place during their tenure of office.

In gauging whether they have done well or blundered, we must not make the grave error ourselves of blaming them for matters beyond their control. The whole of world history is not made in the White House. It is also made in the Kremlin, in Downing Street, and many another capital.

But Korea was a perfectly legitimate topic for campaign discussion. The big question now is what President-elect Eisenhower will do about the people's unsettled mood.

CAR THIEVES

Automobile thefts, and the theft of automobile accessories, constitute the major portion of all crimes against property in the United States every year. Some of this thievery is of the amateur variety, but a good part of it is done by professionals who employ well-tested techniques.

There are certain precautions offered by police officials to minimize the possibility of becoming the victim of automobile thieves. Motorists should avoid overnight street parking whenever possible. Parking on a poorly lighted street encourages theft. Failure to lock cars, or leaving ignition keys in the car, is inviting trouble. Leaving packages or valuables on the seat of an automobile attracts the attention of passers-by who may be dishonest.

The car owner who makes a note of the motor and serial number of his car will have a better opportunity to get it back in case it is stolen. It is simple to change the appearance of a stolen car by painting it but serial and motor numbers are difficult to change.

It is possible that a car will be stolen even after its owner has taken every precaution. But such a car will be easier to trace. The careless car-owner is more likely to lose his car and he may lose it permanently.

THE FORMATION OF THE CABINET

In the United States, Cabinet officers are secretaries and assistants to the President. They hold office at his option. They are elected to no office and have no independent constituencies. They usually are members of the President's party, although he may appoint citizens who are of the opposite party or of no party at all.

President-elect Eisenhower will have a difficult time choosing his Cabinet, because of his newness to political life. With hardly a working majority in either house of Congress, he is politically dependent upon a Republican-Southern Democrat coalition through which he must get appropriations for his various departments. That coalition can make or break his Administration, because they can withhold, reduce, or delay appropriations. Committees of Congress can also hold up confirmation of persons he appoints or can delay such ratifications or hold unpleasant and prolonged hearings in public. Each member of the Cabinet has to be confirmed by the Senate.

Guess-lists, issued by various prophets, of prospective Cabinet officers have most of them coming from the Eastern Seaboard—principally New York. This is politically impossible. The basic strength of his party is still in the Middle West, which cannot be ignored in Cabinet appointments. If New York gets two seats, it may prove one too many. California has the Vice President and therefore more than one Cabinet member from California would be high. The Southern Democrats who deserted party regularity to vote for Eisenhower are entitled to Cabinet recognition. The Taft Republicans, who constitute the largest element in the Republican Party, will have to be recognized.

Geographical appointments are normal to American political life. It is a recognition of the structure of American society based upon our history. We are a federation of 48 sovereign states.

Furthermore, New York is disliked and distrusted in most parts of the United States, the assumption being that it is a city divided between Wall Street plutocrats and Stork Club wisecrackers. Organization Republicans, who have labored in the desert for 20 years, will expect recognition.

The Republican Party consists of three basic elements: 1. The Taft Republicans; 2. The Young Republicans (since 1932); 3. The New Republicans, (those who came into the party with Eisenhower).

Amity was achieved within the party largely through the efforts of Robert A. Taft and Herbert Hoover. It can almost be said that Taft campaigned as hard as Eisenhower did. That was essential, as otherwise a large number of Republicans would not have voted—enough possibly to change the outcome of the election. Herbert Hoover fought the tendency to sabotage Eisenhower from the day Eisenhower was nominated. It can be said that the Republican Party had not been as unified since 1928 as it was in 1952 and that Taft and Hoover achieved that unity for Eisenhower.

The Young Republicans were divided between the Taft and Eisenhower elements. They have had no governmental experience, except perhaps in Congress or in offices under the New Deal during the war. However, many of them have been effective party workers during the past 20 years. In the course of the next decade, they will take over the Republican Party and will run it. Most of them must be idealistically Republicans or they would not have chosen careers in a defeated party and stayed with it through the bleak years of failure.

The New Republicans have no history in the Republican Party except in this campaign. Few even know their names. Their loyalty is to Eisenhower the man, not to the party. Politically, they are expected to wait their turn. If too many are elevated to high position before they have won confidence, it may hurt Eisenhower's chances of having smooth sailing in Congress.

Were the Republicans working majorities in the two houses of Congress notable, these distinctions would not matter. However with the slim majority that the Republicans have (no actual working majority in either house), the greatest care must be taken to maintain the unity in the party achieved during the campaign. This will require political astuteness of the highest order. Roosevelt had a prolonged honeymoon period; Eisenhower will not have that because the Democrats will seek to rebuild their party as rapidly as possible, with a view to recapturing Congress in 1954.

That is why Cabinet appointments are so important.

SURGICAL TREATMENT OF ULCER

One of the commonest ailments in these days of turmoil is ulcer of the stomach and ulcer of the first few inches of the small intestine—the duodenum—into which the stomach empties its contents. This ulcer (stomach and intestine) is called peptic ulcer. Until a few years ago, operation to remove the ulcer was considered the best treatment, but as the patient did not change his disposition or personal make-up, that is continued to worry, he grew another ulcer.

However, by reasurrance, diet, alkalies, the medical treatment of peptic ulcer has replaced treatment by surgery, except in cases where complications have arisen, and as there appears to be a great number of these cases, physicians and surgeons are again using surgery and obtaining excellent results.

In Nebraska State Medical Journal, Lincoln, Dr. George Crile Jr. of the noted Cleveland Clinic, states that during the past five years over 400 patients have been treated at the clinic by vagotomy (cutting of the vagus nerve supplying the stomach and small intestine) and by gastroenterostomy (making an artificial passage from stomach to intestine.)

Seven of the first 154 patients could not be traced, but the remaining 147 have been followed for from two to four years. Good results have been obtained in 90 per cent of the patients followed. Another 3 per cent had no return of the ulcer symptoms, are better than before operation, but have side effects of the operation or stomach and intestinal symptoms arising from causes other than the ulcer severe enough to require some diet and medical treatment. In 10 patients (7 per cent) the results are classified as failures.

"The 90 per cent of patients in whom satisfactory results were obtained are following no diet, taking no medicine, and are permitted to eat, drink or smoke as they please. They have been informed that they no longer have the tendency to ulcer (ulcer diathesis) and that they can forget they ever had an ulcer." The patients themselves state that they never felt better in their lives.

Because the death rate of these operations—vagotomy and gastroenterostomy—is less than 5 per cent, because the illness and side effects of operation are lower than with gastric resection (removal of stomach) and because in 95 per cent of the cases there is no evidence of recurrence or return of the ulcer for from two to four years after operation, Dr. Grile believes that vagotomy combined with gastroenterostomy is the best operation for patients with complicated duodenal ulcer."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—It's an ironic twist of fate that the first Supreme Court vacancy President Eisenhower will have to fill will probably be that of an ardent New Dealer, Justice Felix Frankfurter.

Day after tomorrow, Frankfurter has the right to retire on full salary, having then reached the age of 70. And since Frankfurter was one of the early Roosevelt men who proposed that Supreme Court justices should get off the bench at that age, it would be consistent for him to do so.

However, a strange thing has happened to Justice Frankfurter. Though he's accused by Republican critics of being an architect of the New Deal and the man who's inspired the Acheson policies, actually he's become a strong Eisenhower man.

Gradually he's drifted away from the Truman administration, now has few friends left high up in government except the secretary of state. Meanwhile, some of his old friends, such as Jack McCloy, former high commissioner for Germany, and Kenneth Royall, former secretary of war, have become Ike's strongest backers.

And with McCloy slated high on the list to be secretary of state, Frankfurter may end up being just as close to the State Department under the Eisenhower administration as during the Truman administration.

Though Frankfurter could retire from the Supreme Court this week, private betting among the jurists is that he won't. Probably he'll remain on until after Nov. 20, when Eisenhower could appoint his successor—unless he wants to make a vacancy for his old friend and student, Dean Acheson. If so, he'll resign before January, giving Truman a chance to give Acheson an interim appointment.

Battling HST

The Mayflower management isn't talking, but the mysterious new apartment it's fitting up is for the ex-President of the United States.

Harry Truman will occupy it until he can find a house in old-fashioned Georgetown and until he comes back from his trip around the world.

This means the ex-President is going to be a potential thorn in the side of Eisenhower administration for some time to come.

When Herbert Hoover left the White House he lived in New York, said little, moved about little, for a time was almost forgotten. He came to Washington only twice during the entire Roosevelt administratoin; in fact, didn't get back in the limelight until Truman appointed him head of a post-war food committee, later head of a commission on government reorganization. Hoover was so grateful he made a speech at the Gridiron Club in almost tearful praise of Truman.

But with the present outgoing President, things will be different. Determined to see that historians correctly view his record, HST is going to stick around. He is going to be in there pitching, correcting, battling as a private citizen to the very end.

Secretary of State

Those who have talked to the President-elect about cabinet posts come away with the distinct impression that he is not going to appoint John Foster Dulles as secretary of state, and that this all-important post is more likely to go to Paul Hoffman, the Marshall plan administration, or John J. McCloy, former high commissioner to Germany. Both are extremely able, with competent know-how in foreign affairs.

While Dulles also has a rich foreign-affairs background, Eisenhower doesn't seem quite comfortable with him. Their relationship is similar to that of Truman and Jimmie Byrnes, who was so aggressive and had so much know-how that he sometimes overshadowed his boss.

Paul Hoffman, on the other hand, has been taken back into the full favor of the Eisenhower smile. For a time Hoffman was on the outs. One of the original Ike-rooters and chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, Hoffman soured a bit when the general embraced McCarthy and all the other isolationists. But toward the end he flew back from California and came out strong for Eisenhower.

Jack McCloy probably has the best of all backgrounds to be secretary of state. He served as assistant secretary of war under FDR, then head of the World Bank, then took over the tough job of administering Germany, knows his European onions thoroughly.

GOPolitics

Ike and advisers are plenty peeved at the top-heavy Negro vote for Stevenson. This has nothing to do with it, but there'll be no Negro member of the cabinet, as Ike once speculated... There will also be no woman in the cabinet—at least not yet. However, a woman will be put on the Social Security Board or similar welfare agency....Mary Lord of New York, a co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, will get a sub-cabinet post....Other GOP women listed for rewards are Mrs. Ivy Priest, head of the Republican Women's division; Clare Boothe Luce, glamor-girl author and wife of the publisher; Mrs. Katherine Howard, National Committeewoman for Massachusetts; and Oveta Culp Hobby, former head of the WACS, now a Texas publisher ....High on the Eisenhower job list is Ralph Cake of Oregon.... Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire and Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska have made it clear they're not seeking cabinet posts. They'll serve if needed, but aren't pushing. Both have now gone home and Ike keeps asking where they are....Ex-Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska is slated to be Undersecretary of Agriculture—if he wants the job.

Merry-Go-Round

Here's an easy guide as to which government officials will be fired by Eisenhower and which will keep their jobs. In general, the limousine-riders—those who have chauffeurs—will be replaced. The taxi riders, bus riders and trolley-car riders will hold onto their jobs

There'll be a lot of changes at the White House after Jan. 20, including a change from bourbon and branch water to scotch and soda—Ike's favorite....The Vice President-to-be, Senator Nixon, has hinted he will try to block filibusterers by rulings from the chair. (His colleagues will never let him get away with it.)...

Governor Stevenson has told his personal advisers that he doesn't want to run the Democratic party, would rather quit politics. However, Wilson Wyatt and Sen. Bill Fulbright of Arkansas persuaded him to put off a final decision until February.... He doesn't sign his name with green ink, but Republicans are boasting about a "Jim Farley" of their own—Abe Hermann, former GOP executive director, who has managed seven GOP senatorial campaigns in New Jersey without a single loss. Hermann recently piloted GOP Sen. Alexander Smith to re-election by a 300,000 majority, biggest senatorial landslide in New Jersey history.

American Public in for Many Surprises From Ike as He Debunks Campaign Accusations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 13 — The American people—including many of those citizens who didn't vote for General Eisenhower because they believed some of the things they were told about him by the partisans—are in for some surprises.

Just as the attack on Eisenhower before the National Convention last summer has since that time been proved to be largely fallacious, so also will many of the inferences and implications heard in the political battle that followed the conventions be proved to be without basis. Here are some of them:

1. Before the conventions, Ike was represented as a "stooge" of Truman. Nobody reading the attack on Eisenhower by Truman and Stevenson during the campaign could justly conclude by Election Day that Ike was part and parcel of the Democratic administration.

2. Before the conventions, it was said that Ike wouldn't criticize the Acheson foreign policy, especially as to China. He did so nevertheless and made Korea a paramount issue.

3. Just after the conventions, it was said that Ike would be a "captive" of Dewey, who really had a great deal to do with steering him toward the nomination. But the New York governor wasn't the only man in the Eisenhower councils during the campaign. There were many others, representing all factions of the party.

4. After the conventions, it was said that Eisenhower had "surrendered" to conservative Senator Taft and had repudiated the "progressive" wing of his party led by Governor Dewey and Governor Warren. Yet the New York governor is to confer next week with General Eisenhower and he or some of his colleagues will play an important part in the new administration—Senator Lodge, for instance, will be in the cabinet and maybe John Foster Dulles will be secretary of state. Governor Warren is to be a principal consultant and might even be made attorney general.

5. After the conventions, it was said—especially in Europe—that General Eisenhower had swallowed Senator Taft's views on international policy and had therefore become an "isolationist," for he favors international cooperation. As leader of the Senate, he will have the same problem that the late Senator Vandenberg had in trying to keep the Republican party united in support of treaties and international agreements made by the United States with other nations. There will be no swing to "isolationism" and no swing toward letting Europe have money without limit for economic rehabilitation or military purposes. It will be a revision of appropriations that not only the Republican party, with one or two exceptions, but many of the southern Democrats will support.

6. After the conventions, it was said that, having a "military mind," General Eisenhower would be anxious to enlarge the war, especially in the Far East. Bevan and his extremists are saying the same thing now in Britain. But the general will be found to be striving more to win the "cold war" and prevent World War 3 than to compel any showdown on the military side.

7. After the conventions, it was said that General Eisenhower had become anti-labor. But it will be found that he will consult equally leaders of labor unions and business groups. Probably Harold Stassen will be the secretary of labor. This would be a far cry from an "anti-labor" set-up.

These are but a few of the surprises that are in store for those persons who sized up Eisenhower according to the misleading and inaccurate appraisals made by his campaign opponents for political purposes. The general is very likely to be a national President who seeks the best men in both political parties. Bipartisanship in foreign policy will not be a gesture but a real plan for two-party cooperation.

Already the President-elect is giving an example of fairness and even-handedness in dealing with the factions within his party. He is, moreover, handling himself with dignity and with courtesy toward his defeated opponents. It may be that he will consider appointing Governor Stevenson to a post of importance in the international field, possibly at the head of the American delegation to the United Nations.

It is significant to note, too, that the general didn't take offense at the very sarcastic comment in the message from President Truman to him the day after election when the President said he would put his plane at the disposal of the general "if you still desire to go to Korea." The innuendo that the President-elect would consider backing out on his spectacular pledge, now that he had won the election, was uncalled for, but General Eisenhower ignored it.

The way the President-elect will work is to pick men who have an intimate knowledge of governmental affairs and ask them for their opinions and for the facts—and then he'll make up his own mind. He will make mistakes just as his predecessors have, but the spirit of conscientious devotion to duty which the general will reflect cannot but make his mistakes subject to correction once he recognizes the errors. It is a safe assumption that, while General Eisenhower will not be a partisan President, he will not hesitate to build up the Republican party for its congressional test in 1954 and for the big campaign of 1956.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Dwight D. Eisenhower had better get on the ball now and ride off any of his relatives who may be making honest dumb mistakes or yielding to the Rooseveltian instincts which made a racket of the presidency.

From Nov. 2 to Nov. 7, inclusive, when he checked out about noon, Arthur B. Eisenhower, of Kansas City, a banker, one of Ike's brothers, occupied Suite 30-D in the Waldorf Tower. The next Suite, 30-C is the residence and political powerhouse or boiler-room of the mysterious and sinister Arthur J. Goldsmith. This man manufacturers spark plugs. He is described also as a retired broker. His numerous synthetic, letter-head political organizations, secretely or very quietly, solicit money from wealth persons in the east and secretly spent it to sway elections in states where Goldsmith and his political cohorts do not reside. They have no legitimate civic reason to use money to thwart the political will of any of the voting citizens thereof although they have a legal right to do so, with restrictions.

I have dealt in some detail with Goldsmith's activities and dwelt upon the fact that his letter-head groups give their address as 100 East 50th street, which to most individuals, even in New York, would not depict the luxurious Waldorf Tower.

Milton Eisenhower, the president of Penn State College, made one visit to the suite of his brother, Arthur, and conferred there with Arthur and Goldsmith.

I telephoned Arthur B. Eisenhower in Kansas City. He went on the defensive immediately. He said I was snooping.

"What do you mean 'snooping?'" I demanded. "My name is Pegler. I told you that. I am a newspaper reporter. I told you that. And I am asking you direct questions and you say I am snooping."

Mr. Eisenhower said we had met once in Kansas City. He said he knew the character of my work.

"You seem to be trying to make something of it," he said. I replied that I didn't know what I would write because I didn't know the facts. I was calling him to get the facts from the man directly concerned and he immediately accused me of snooping and trying "to make something of it."

"I am not afraid of any disclosure," he said.

"All right," I said, "who introduced you to Goldsmith?" He said a mutual friend introduced them and, later in the conversation, said other persons took part in their conversations. I asked him who introduced them. He refused to name any of the others who joined them in their discussions.

"I don't want to be a party to any of your news," he said. He also said: "I am not afraid of any disclosure." All right then, I insisted, why all the mystery? What were they afraid of? I said it was strange that a group of honest men engaged in legitimite activities could be embarrassed by mention of these meetings in print.

I told Eisenhower that the family name now had a new importance. When the brother of the President-elect held meetings with a man of Goldsmith's mysterious political character, the facts might be of interest to the public. Frankly, Elliott and Jimmy Roosevelt and their mother had put me on warning not to take pure, unselfish motives for granted in the dealings of relatives of a president. I don't know what Arthur and Milton Eisenhower were up to with Goldsmith but I do know enough about Goldsmith and his political machinations to insist on facts and to reject this stuffy indignation that Arthur Eisenhower displayed. That reaction makes me suspicious. I sent Goldsmith a tele-

Lake Whose Shores Foam With "Soap Suds"!

Soap Lake, a natural curiosity at the southern extremity of the Grand Coulee, foams with "soap suds" on windy days. It is three miles long and one mile wide. Its waters contain 20 different minerals which the wind whips into "sudsy" action.

Embarrassed Minister

Lakeland, Fla. (AP)—The Rev. Herman D. Cox, Baptist minister here, doesn't want city garbage collectors to get the wrong idea about him. He appeared before the city council to ask it to point out to the garbage men that the beer cans and whiskey bottles they occasionally find in his rubbish are picked up from the church lawn where they are tossed by people who "fail to respect" the church. The city council assured him the garbage men would have the situation explained to them.

Aviation Writers Honor Lynch for Giving Facts

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Aviation Writers Association yesterday presented a plaque to Major Joe Lynch, chief of public information for the Military Air Transport Service (MATS), for "bringing the facts of the air age to the greatest number of people."

Ralph Platt of the Cleveland News, association president, said it was the first time such a presentation has been made. Platt told a luncheon honoring Lynch that the officer had been of outstanding service to writers in the field of aviation.

Lynch, a former reporter for the Beacon, N. Y., News, said he accepted the award on behalf of all members of the armed forces who are in public relations work. Lynch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Lynch of Beacon.

Says Sex Offenders Are Let Off Easy

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—State Sen. Thomas C. Desmond said today that judges were ignoring a 1950 state law and giving "easy, short sentences" to convicted sex offenders.

"Small wonder that New York city and upstate communities suffer periodic sex crime waves," the Newburgh Republican declared in a statement.

Desmond noted that the 1950 law, backed by Gov. Dewey's administration, provided indeterminate prison sentences ranging from one day to life for persons convicted of sex crimes. The legislation called for special psychiatric treatment of such prisoners and barred their release on parole until they had been rehabilitated.

The senator said that "judicial aversion to indeterminate sentences under the 1950 law can be explained mainly on the basis that judges brought up under ancient legal concepts, which of course do not reflect modern scientific advances, prefer to substitute their own judgment as to a suitable penalty for that of psychiatrists.  It may also be found that the psychiatric treatment promised by the law has not been made available by the prisons."

May Take New Course

"This exposure of judicial old fogeyism" Desmond said will require the 1953 Legislature to take remedial measures which might involve compelling judges to give indeterminate sentences if the sex offender is found guilty, or replacing judges in sex crime cases with a board of psychiatrists and social workers. ***

"There is the sad record of judicial obstinacy.

"Of 147 persons in the state committed for rape during the two and a half years operation of the law, only four were given the indeterminate sentences provided by the 1950 statute; of 106 committed for sodomy, only 17; of 103 committed for carnal abuse, only 32; of 52 committed for second-degree assault with intent to commit a sex crime, only 19; of 36 committing incest, indecent exposure and indecent acts, none!"

Accidental Deaths Rise

New York (AP)—There were 1,946 accidental deaths in New York city in the first eight months of 1952, reports the Greater New York Safety Council. This was an increase of 103 deaths over the figure for the same period last year. Home accidents claimed 995 victims while 382 were killed in motor vehicle accidents. The unusual heat wave in June and July caused 80 deaths from sunstroke and heat prostration, an increase of more than 60 over 1951 figures.

Cop's Car Copped

Chicago (AP)—Patrolman Robert C. Woodward parked his automobile across the street from the New City police station, 1700 W. 47th street. When he completed his tour he found his car gone and thought at first fellow bluecoats had removed it for a joke. Brother officers crossed their hearts, however, and helped him fill out an auto theft report.

Two Democrat Leaders Resign Their Posts

Hudson, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Columbia county's Democratic committee chairman and treasurer are resigning this month.

Chairman Robert R. Livingston of Germantown said in submitting his resignation that he had been "unable to unify the varibus factions of the party."

"The welding together of these factions was my prime motive in accepting the office," last year, Livingston said Tuesday.

Livingston announced he had accepted the resignation of Treasurer A. Lincoln Scott of Bell's Pond. Both resignations will be effective no later than Dec. 1.

The Republican ticket of Dwight D. Eisenhower and U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives carried this normally Democratic city in the Nov. 4 election. Eisenhower received a plurality of 1,133 and Ives 1,154.

Columbia county, normally Republican, gave both men record pluralities of about 15,000.

Service for Shuts-Ins

Chipley, Fla. (AP)—If you're sick and can't get to church, the First Baptist Church here will provide you with a religious service anyway. The church operates its own eight-watt radio station over which it transmits worship services to shut-ins. The station, WXAD, was built and presented to the church by a member of the congregation.

As Pegler Sees It

gram about all this but got no reaction at all.

Arthur Eisenhower did admit that he and Goldsmith had conferred every day of the six days that they were neighbors in the Tower. There are a hell of a lot of people in the Tower at least as interesting as Goldsmith, Herbert Hoover for example. But of all the residents and transient inmates, Goldsmith was the one who was in and out of his place and vice versa, every day for almost a week. Mr. Eisenhower said their visits lasted "five or ten minutes." I take it on myself to doubt that. Let us say that his memory is inaccurate.

I said the arm of coincidence made a long stretch to plant these two, Goldsmith and the brother of the President-elect, in neighboring suites out of all the accommodations in New York. Yes, he said, that had been quite a coincidence. But he saw no significance in the fact that they were neighbors and denied that they had any interest in Goldsmith's affairs. He advised me to take it all up with Goldsmith and I told him I had gone to Goldsmith on a past occasion but had chased him into hiding. By phone he refused to say anything and when I wrote him a letter, according to his request, he broke his promise to answer it. Later Herbert Swope, who has a silly habit which impresses nobody, of chucking his weight around groups of the Goldsmith type, told me that I had scared hell out of Goldsmith. I didn't know why then but I know why now, and for those reasons which I will deal with later, Dwight Eisenhower had better tell his brothers to watch their company.

To get back to Arthur Ike. For a fellow determined to keep a still tongue in his head, he did a lot of dumb talking. He said Goldsmith would be the one to answer the questions "under the circumstances."

"What circumstances?"

"We met on the most friendly circumstances," he said. "I met him through some friends. I am not seeking any publicity, that's all. I met some dam fine friends. The kind of people you'd like to meet. Very interesting. Why should I subject them to annoyance? I found Goldsmith charming and entertaining. I found him brilliant. I don't know anything against him."

I told him he undoubtedly would get some publicity nevertheless. And I could turn up some individuals who could match intelligence and social tastes with Arthur Ike at catchweights who will disagree on every point of his personal opinion of Arthur J. Goldsmith.

Fast Ride Saves Life

Logansport, Ind., (AP)—A Peru, Ind., man raced through lowns the other day from Logansport to Ft. Wayne and return at 80 miles an hour and went even faster in the country. And instead of stopping him, police escorted him part of the trip. Doctors credit the man, Lewis G. Sharpf, with probably saving the life of his nicce, who needed a rare type of blood for a transfusion in an emergency. Sharpf drove the 137-mile round trip in two hours. His niece, Mrs. Katherine Shearer of Winamac, Ind., is recovering in a Logansport hospital.

Congo One-Third Christian

Leopoldville, Belgian Congo (AP)—About 30 per cent of the Belgian Congo's native population is Christian, according to unofficial statistics recently released here. Less than 100 years of missionary work contributed to the conversion of some three million natives to the Christian faith. Catholics predominate with nearly 2,900,000 followers, while Protestants number about 600,000.

The banquet will be held Monday, Jan. 26, at Williams Lake Hotel. Music will be by Ole Christensen and a New York floor show will be engaged for entertainment. The guest list includes officials of the State Liquor Authority, members of the county ABC board and county officials.

Other Members

Serving with Teetsel on the committee will be Arthur Isabella, Anthony Saccoman, Gene Sottile, Raymond Amell, Thomas Provenzano, Emile Jordan and Mac Martalto of Kingston; George Broome and Bert Tresider of Saugerties; Joseph Aisson and Edward Cherny of Rosendale, and Floyd Scott of Ellenville.

The committee will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at George Broome's Hotel in Saugerties.

George Broome, delegate to the state convention at Rochester, reported on that convention, and the clambake committee reported proceeds of $600 turned over to the Cerebral Palsy Fund. Vice President Bert Tresider presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Charles Hoppe.

Chinese Says Reds

Reds do not want a truce unless it will "solidify and strengthen the ranks of world communism."

Sees Force Idea

Yeh pointed out that some delegations have sought to solve the repatriation problem through transfer of prisoners to the care of neutral countries. But, he said, this might turn out to be only a delayed manner of forcibly sending home those Communist prisoners who have said they don't want to go.

The Communists, Yeh said, could be expected to put "direct and indirect pressure" on the prisoners once they were temporarily in their neutral refuges.

Yeh also lashed world communism for infiltrating and taking advantage of national freedom movements throughout the world.

Struggled for Years

He recalled that China had struggled for years to free itself from colonialism and expressed his country's sympathy for similar movements in other areas. But, he warned, those countries should be on their guard lest the Reds use their nationalist movements "to pursue their own nefarious designs."

Yeh charged that Soviet Russia has substituted "satellization" for the imperialism of the past and asserted that the Communist regime in Peiping "is as completely a Soviet puppet as the Communist regime in North Korea."

He charged that the Chinese Reds had kept themselves in power by executing 14 million persons during the past five years, and that millions more have been condemned to a "living death."

Dr. Kagy was captured with Provoo when Corregidor fell in 1942. Provoo is accused of donning the robes of a Buddhist priest and going over to the Japanese side after he was captured. Dr. Kagy, now a New Orleans physician, testified Provoo envisioned himself as a puppet ruler of an America enslaved by Japanese supermen.

Kelly-Decker Suit Continues in Court

Continued in County court today was an action for work, labor and services brought by Hugh Kelly against Henry Decker of Kerhonkson, an action to recover a balance of $481.31 which plaintiff alleges is due from a drilling operation which he conducted back in 1948 for Decker.

An item of $96.41 is not disputed but the defendant disputes items in the amount of $384.90. Joseph Kooperman appears for plaintiff and Frank Decker appears as trial counsel for Robert V. Stapleton, attorney of record.

A negligence action brought by LeRoy O'Brien against Anthony DeCicco was announced settled on the call. Charles H. Gaffney for plaintiff and Roy L. Featherstone for defendant.

County Judge John M. Cashin made up a day calendar for Friday at 10 o'clock and jurors not engaged on the case now on trial were excused until that time.

Three Are Arrested In Clothing Fraud

Newark, N. J., Nov. 13 (AP)—The FBI arrested a New Jersey man and two New York men yesterday on charges of fraud and embezzlement in connection with a government clothing contract.

S. K. McKee, special agent in charge of the Newark FBI office identified the men as:

Nicholas Maromaty, 42, of 52-09 92nd street, Elmhurst, N. Y., his brother, Lester Maromaty, 34, 53-07 214th street, Bayside, N. Y., and Herman P. Kravitz, 33, 2 North Sumner street, Margate.

McKee accused the men of retaining wolf fur strips that were to have been incorporated in parkas being manufactured for the government. He said 9,400 fur strips, valued at more than $15,000 were involved.

Kravitz was identified as secretary of Kravin Park Clothes, Incorporated, an Atlantic City company. The Maromaty brothers were identified as partners in Lester's furs, 86-45 Broadway, Elmhurst.

Charge Changes Made

McKee said Kravin Park Clothes had a government contract to manufacture 380,000 fur-trimmed parka hoods for the government during 1951. Lester's Furs, he said, acted as a sub-contractor and was to have lengthened the fur strips so they would be suitable for parka hoods.

McKee charged that the two companies made fur strips out of scrap material and substituted these strips for the ones issued to them by the government.

He said they were in process of re-selling the genuine articles back to the government when they were caught. Government stamps he said, had been covered with laundry ink.

Leads Brewery Parade

New York (AP)—There are 328 breweries operating in the United States, according to the new edition of Breweries of the Western Hemisphere. The publication says there are nearly 600 breweries in all of North and South America. Of the total, Canada has 60, Brazil 60, Mexico 21, Colombia 23, with the remainder in Latin American countries. Only one new brewery was opened in the U. S. last year to offset the shutdown of 32 during the 18 months from January, 1951 to June, 1952.

continuing, he said, and those found guilty will be prosecuted.

Emma Gordon, $252

The attorney said Emma Gordon was charged with having accepted $252. Of this she owed $225 and made restitution in full, he said.

Nicholas was charged with having accepted $182. He paid $10 and was to make restitution for the rest by Nov. 15.

Moon is charged with having accepted $494, and Coffin said he owes $394. All three, he said, are self-employed. The arrests were made on warrants executed by local police and the sheriff's office.

Moon was paroled in his own custody for appearance Dec. 1.

Funeral Is Held Today for Murray, Thousands Attend

Pittsburgh, Nov. 13 (AP)—The late Philip Murray, who won the title of labor's statesman while bringing the CIO to its greatest strength, went to his final resting place today near the soft coal fields where he began his life's work.

The funeral of the CIO president brought labor leaders from every section of the country into this industrial stronghold to pay their final respects to the one-time immigrant boy who became the friend of U. S. presidents.

Murray's death Sunday in a San Francisco hotel room caused a delay in the CIO's plans to open its 14th constitutional convention in Los Angeles next Monday.

Funeral services for Murray were conducted this morning by a boyhood friend, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry A. Carlin, vicar-general of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic diocese. Thousands attended the solemn requiem Mass in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Many Pay Respects

Long files of saddened friends, admirers and followers trailed slowly past Murray's bier yesterday at a suburban funeral home.

CIO vice presidents who conferred with Allan S. Haywood, CIO executive vice president, here yesterday decided to delay the start of the convention until Monday, Dec. 1 and move it from Los Angeles to Atlantic City.

Their decision will come before the CIO executive board here Friday for approval.

Since Murray also was president of the CIO-United Steelworkers, that union also must name a new president. The USW has called its 36-member executive board to a Pittsburgh session Saturday to outline procedure.

So He Ate Crow

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The moment C. M. Vandeburg had dreaded came today, and he chomped down on a crow sandwich. "It's not tasty," he said. Vandeburg, who headed the American Heritage Foundation's get-out-the-vote drive, ate the crow publicly to fulfill an election pledge he'd do so if the total voter turnout failed to reach 63 million. Right now, the tally stands at about 60 million, with the soldier vote still uncounted, but Vandeburg decided to go ahead with his penalty—since he'd already gone out and shot a crow.

Says Provoo Bragged

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—A witness testified today that former Army Sgt. John David Provoo "bragged" after the Japanese execution of Capt. Burton C. Thompson that he had "turned in" the captain to the Japanese for punishment. Provoo is on trial in Federal Court for alleged treasonable acts committed in behalf of the Japanese after they captured the Philippines island of Corregidor and American troops there early in World War 2.

Will Try for World Speed Record

Capt. Slade Nash, shown climbing into cockpit of an F-86D Sabrejet fighter, will attempt to crack the world's speed record of 670.9 miles an hour Nov. 13. The Sioux City, Ia., experimental test pilot, who is based at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., will make the try in an Air Force Sabrejet over the California desert. The record was established in 1948 by Maj. Richard L. Johnson in an earlier model of the Sabre. (AP Wirephoto).

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Nov. 13—A large crowd attended the annual turkey supper under the auspices of the Young Women's Club of the New Hurley Reformed Church at the church hall, Sherwood Corners, on Wednesday evening of last week. People were present from New Paltz, Clintondale, Modena, Plattekill, Newburgh, Orange Lake, Montgomery, Walden, Shawangunk, Wallkill and Gardiner. Net proceeds amounted to $357.87.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedges of this neighborhood celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday, Nov. 5. They were entertained by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena at the turkey supper held under the auspices of the Young Women's Club at the New Hurley Church Hall on Wednesday evening. Sixteen members of the family and friends were also present at the supper, including Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hotaling, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dunn and son and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scofield of Walden, Mrs. Carrie Harris of Plattekill, Eugene Paltridge and Ebey Coy of Modena and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hotaling of New Hurley and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena.

All were seated at a special table decorated with yellow roses and candles. Mrs. Hedges was presented with a revised Bible from the New Hurley Sunday School for her faithful services as a teacher. Laurence Dolan made the presentation. Many friends of the Hedges were present at the supper. Mr. and Mrs. Hedges were married on the evening of November 5, 1902, at the New Hurley Church parsonage by Dr. J. A. Thurston who was then pastor of the New Hurley Church. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tremper of Forest Road.

On Thursday afternoon of last week the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. William Mechelke with the following members present: Mmes. Gerow Wilkin, Elwood Powell, George Sherwood, Myra Dolan, Clarence Spencer, Dagmer Nelson, Clifford Hotaling, Jacob Kobelt, J. W. Tysse, Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton. The vice-president, Mrs. Wilkin, took charge of the meeting. Mrs. George Sherwood and Mrs. Wilkin will act as a committee for the Thanksgiving offering. Mrs. Dagmar Nelson and Miss Bertha Sutton were appointed as a committee to select officers for the coming year.

The sum of $153.70 was raised, which will be given to the church treasurer for support of the church. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Mechelke. The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clarence Spencer.

Saturday afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Denniston with Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker as the assistant hostess. Devotions were led by Mrs. Schoonmaker. The president, Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin, presided over the business meeting. The treasurer, Mrs. Edward Humphreys reported that net proceeds from the turkey supper amounted to $357.87. Mrs. Hartwick joined the club at this meeting. Eighteen members were present. At the close of the meeting the hostess and assistant served refreshments. The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. James Wilkin with Mrs. Burton Van Aken assisting.

November is Domestic Mission Month. Indian tepees were distributed in Sunday school to be returned Sunday, Nov. 30, with an offering for Indian Mission work. At a board meeting tremendous opportunities for new churches in strategic areas were tabled because there is only $10,000 in the church building fund. There are 40 Indian children in Winnebago Shelter and no room for others desperately in need. Canadian immigrants continue to pour into Canada and ask, Where is the Reformed Church?

The annual congregational meeting of the New Hurley Church will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 9, with a dinner in charge of Gerow Wilkin and Elmer Fries. Sometime during the month of November the every member canvass will get under way. Roscoe Pickins is general chairman. The deacons and financial committee will help him distribute envelopes.

Dead Fish Found

Fort Myers, Fla., Nov. 13 (AP)—Scientists are setting out to determine if the acres of dead fish seen floating in the Gulf of Mexico the past few days are caused by the dread red tide. Three marine life experts of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service flew from Galveston, Tex., to Sarasota and a laboratory ship is on the way to join them. Reports of dead fish are similar to those in 1947 when the red tide killed tons of fish along the Florida west coast and ruined the summer vacation season in some places. The red tide is a tiny marine organism known as dinoflagellate. Some scientists say these organisms kill fish by entering the gills and strangling them; others say they do it with poison.

Late Bulletins

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—UN officials said today A. H. Feller, special counsel to Secretary-General Trygve Lie, had been killed in a fall from the window of his home.

Feller lived at 50 Central Park West in Manhattan.

He was one of Lie's inner circle of advisers and had helped draft most of Lie's policy statements.

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Dress manufacturer Samuel Chapman, 56, was acquitted today of a charge of possession of pornographic pictures and other articles in his Hotel Algonquin apartment.

The three special sessions judges voted unanimously to acquit upon a motion of Paul O'Dwyer, defense attorney.

Chapman was arrested last Aug. 16 by two police officers who had gone to the apartment to serve him with a grand jury summons in a "safe society" vice investigation.

The dress manufacturer took the witness stand in his own defense at the opening of the trial today. He said the risque pictures, statuettes and a bolt of cloth found by police were gifts from salesmen.

Chapman said the salesmen gave gifts to him "because I buy more than $1,000,000 worth of cloth a year." The gifts included jewelry, he said.

He emphasized that he did not take the photographs nor make the sketches on the bolt of cloth which depicted love making.

"It was given to me by a salesman from Japan," the 56-year-old defendant testified. "He told me that's what they use in Japan as a wedding present. It comes with a book."

Textile Man's Body Is Found

Pine Plains, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sheriff C. Fred Close reported the body of Abe M. Luban, 45, missing $25,000-a-year textile company official, was found today in Stissing Lake, near here.

Close said residents of the area reported by telephone discovery of the body. He dispatched deputies to the scene.

Luban, who lived at Harrison, disappeared last Thursday after taking his children, Audrey, 11, and Kenneth, 7 to school.

Close said identification of the body was made through photographs. He could not provide further details immediately.

Pine Plains is in northeast Dutchess county. Luban's wife, Mary, had visited the area this week after receiving reports her husband had been seen in the vicinity last Tuesday.

Luban was general manager for development of dress fabrics of the Blue Bird Silk Manufacturing Co., New York city.

Works of Masters Stolen

Bardstown, Ky., Nov. 13 (AP)—Nine centuries-old paintings, including three attributed to world famous old masters, were taken last night from St. Joseph's Cathedral. The thieves left undisturbed some gold candlesticks, five other paintings identified as masterpieces, and other valuable property. St. Joseph's is the second oldest cathedral in the nation and the oldest west of the Alleghenies. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. James H. Willett, pastor, said the collection had a "priceless value."

Screen Star Remarries

Istanbul, Turkey, Nov. 13 (AP)—American screen star Virginia Bruce remarried wealthy Ali Ipar in a simple ceremony at their Istanbul home today. They were divorced so Ali could serve as an officer during a year's compulsory Turkish army service. Turkish law denies an army commission to Turks who are married to foreigners and noncoms serve two years instead of one.

About the Folks

Mrs. Percy Brink of Stone Ridge is a patient at Kingston Hospital.

California Adversaries

Capt. Horace Brown (right), husband of Marion Davies, and William Randolph Hearst, Jr. (left) tangled in a sidewalk brawl outside a Los Angeles area night club Nov. 11. Brown said Hearst "made a filthy remark about Marion, and I swung." Hearst, denying he made such a remark, said the real trouble was that Brown insisted on his joining the party at a restaurant after he had declined. Brown said he lost a $5,000 ring in the scuffle. ## Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The stock market tried hard to gain ground today but the gains and losses remained pretty evenly mixed.

Activity slowed down considerably after a moderately peppy opening and in most cases the price changes continued small.

Among the exceptions on the advancing side were General Electric and Westinghouse, each of which stepped ahead around a point at times.

Traders said they believed buyers were becoming increasingly aware of the parts such companies will play in an atomic-electronic age.

Excepting for a few issues, price changes were small in about every category and while all groups showed an inclination to advance if given half a chance, they were unable to make any real headway.

Among the chemicals, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide and duPont held to their early small advances. And Air Reduction and Allied Chemical had equally small losses.

Boat Captain

York city, it was learend that DeBarros' barge transported crushed stone from Tarrytown to North Salem. A check locally disclosed the barge was already discharging its load at the Callanan dock.

Troopers claimed that DeBarros in a statement made at the Kingston station after his arrest admitted boarding his barge at Croton-on-Hudson the night of Nov. 6 and accusing Mary DeBarros of "entertaining another man," and also charging that someone had stolen money from a bedroom dresser drawer.

Says Woman Beaten

Cpl. Herron reported that DeBarros admitted beating the woman with a flashlight in the bedroom. The fight continued into the kitchen, where the barge captain picked up a stove lid lifter and "stabbed her five or six times," the statement as related by troopers continued.

After the woman staggered to the deck and collapsed at the stern of the boat, DeBarros ripped her clothing from her in order to destroy any identification marks, then pushed the apparently lifeless form overboard, troopers said.

Served Previous Term

DeBarros admitted under questioning that he had once served a three-year jail term on a manslaughter conviction arising from a "crime of the same nature," state police said.

When approached by the arresting party Wednesday night, DeBarros offered no physical resistance, troopers said. He was somewhat evasive at first during the questioning, they reported.

Arraignment Scheduled

DeBarros was slated for arraignment before Justice of the Peace C. T. McDermott of the town of Cortland, Westchester county, at 2:30 p. m. today on a charge of murder in the first degree, state police at Hawthorne reported this noon.

DeBarros gave his home address as 175 Hull street, East Providence, R. I., and his occupation as barge captain when he was booked in Westchester county this morning.

TILLSON

Tillson, Nov. 13—Approximately 35 members attended the regular monthly meeting of the Tillson volunteer fire company Tuesday evening. Plans were made to improve the fire company police organization, which is responsible for traffic control during a fire. Members owning cars were also requested to obtain official blue lights which signify a volunteer firemen in driving to a fire.

Plans were made to have a siren mounted on a higher tower, so that people living on the further side of the district could hear it when an alarm is sounded.

Company officials pointed out that local men who are not members of the company quite often assist in extinguishing fires. These men fight fires at their own risk. Should they sustain injuries they are not covered by insurance. Only active firemen of the company are covered by insurance, and officials urged these men to join the company in order to be protected, or else not engage in fighting local fires since the possibility of injury at a fire is always imminent.

Following the business meeting a movie, Know Your Fire Extinguisher, was shown and refreshments served.

The Rosendale Sportsmen's Association will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Tillson Firehall. All members are requested to be present.

The men of the Tillson Reformed Church will hold their annual baked ham supper Saturday at the church hall. Suppers will be served starting at 5:30 p. m. The public is invited.

Actress Refuses Reply

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Actress Karen Morley refused today to say whether she is now or ever has been a member of the Communist party. That question was put to the attractive blonde actress when she was summoned before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. In refusing to answer some of the questions put to her by the committee, Miss Morley, whose last screen appearance was in the movie "M," said she chose to invoke the fifth amendment which protects a person from being required to testify against himself. She told the committee she was born in Ottumwa, Iowa, and finished her schooling after moving to California in 1924.

Mother-in-Law Brings Woe

Milwaukee (AP)—When his mother-in-law moved in for an extended visit, everything just seemed to go wrong. Hubby had to sleep on the couch. He lost the affections of his wife. He couldn't eat. He started staying out late at night. He ended up in the divorce courts.

The understanding judge advised him to be nice to his mother-in-law so that she might leave voluntarily. It worked. The couple, who together lost 22 pounds during the interim, are back together again and, according to the judge, very much in love.

Daveport Raps Business and Jobs As Being Unsound

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—A State Department of Commerce official says present high employment and business activity in New York are "not founded on solid rock" and are being challenged by other states.

The official, Dr. Donald H. Davenport, deputy commissioner in charge of economic development, yesterday addressed the joint legislative drive for industrial expansion—particularly in the south and west.

He said New York accounted for 29 per cent of the national income in 1929 but only 16 per cent now. He stressed that the state must combat business migration and "raiding" employe activities of other states.

Dr. J. Harold De Nike, in charge of the division of commerce and industry, said 11 new industries were brought into the state during this year compared with 17 the previous year.

The 11 businesses located in Westchester county and upstate, De Nike said, have provided employment for 1,940 workers and pay rolls totaling six million dollars.

The joint legislative committee hearings go into their third session today.

Small Boats Dangerous

New York (AP)—Small-boat accidents kill about 1,200 Americans annually, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. reports. A fifth of the accidents occurred when the boats were swamped or the victims washed overboard. Many of those drowned had ignored bad weather, tipped the boat, overcrowded a boat, or been careless in other ways.

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

Uncle Sam's finances, starting in January 1953, are apt to be under new management. It is likely that they will take a noticeably different direction. The new Secretary of the Treasury of the United States will doubtless be one of the world's most capable bankers.

A reversal of recent inflationary trends is in prospect. It would be a wonderful thing if this country could go back on the gold standard. There is no reason why this should not be done. Currency in circulation is around 29-billions of dollars; gold supplies are worth $24-billions. No country in the world is better able to resume gold payments than the United States.

The psychological effect of making Federal Reserve Notes (our standard paper money) redeemable in gold would be great. It would start a feeling that integrity is returning to the dollar. It would inculcate in millions of people a spirit of confidence in our economic system.

Given reasonable time, I think the incoming Secretary of the Treasury will balance the federal budget. Since April 1952, the United States Treasury has had to raise over $10-billions of new money to pay bills. Until this borrowing stops, prices, wages, taxes and costs will be in a state of flux, with emphasis on inflation.

Federal tax and spending schedules will be critically and soundly examined in 1953. General Eisenhower in his campaign speeches dealt at length on the evils of an inflationary dollar. It is inconceivable that his chief fiscal officer will not have the courage, the vision and the ability to do what must be done to halt the inflationary tide.

A revision of tax imposts through federal economics that will make available billions upon billions of dollars for industrial improvement and expansion is in the cards. America lacks for nothing in her quest for prosperity if those uneconomic things that make for inflation can be removed. And I think an experienced banker, whose fiscal perception is strong, can eliminate, over a period of time, all dangerous inflationary forces.

Give the American people a renewed confidence in the integrity of the dollar; set up tax schedules that will encourage personal and corporate incentive; remove the harassing regulations that hamper thousands of businesses—do these things and it is quite possible that during the 1953-1956 term of office of General Eisenhower, we shall experience a great period of sound prosperity.

* * *

Just now, millions of people with from $500 to $500,000 to invest, are asking: "Would you buy sound, dividend-paying common and preferred stocks so soon after the election?"

The answer, with the usual qualifications as to the necessity of immediate income, is: "yes."

Money will be cheap for decades to come. Oh, it may get a little dearer.

But if any surge of confidence develops in America, those stocks that have been paying 5 per cent, 6 per cent and 7 per cent for years and years are going to be hard to buy.

From 1932 to 1952, America has been living under the shadow of inflation. Nothing promotes economic uncertainty more than that.

The deliberate cheapening of the dollar in 1933-34; the constant unbalanced federal budgets for two decades; the steady rise in prices—all these have unsettled millions of our people.

January, 1953, may see a complete reversal of these things. And, with it, America could have a resurgence of confidence that would make most stockholders happy.

The labor force in the United States includes about 19 million women.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Minimize Pitfalls And Make Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played, declarer managed to lose two spades and two diamonds. He sadly scored up 100 points for the opponent and forgot about the matter.

Would you do the same thing? Would you think that you had been unlucky to lose this contract, or would you realize that correct play surely brings it home?

South cannot lose his contract if he plays the hand correctly. South wins the opening trump lead, cashes both top clubs, and ruffs a club. Dummy is then entered with a second round of trumps, and dummy's last club is led.

When East fails to follow suit, it is apparent that West has the last club. South therefore discards a diamond, and now nothing can beat him.

West is forced to win the last club and must then return a spade or a diamond. If West returns a spade, declarer will lose only one spade and one diamond. If West returns a diamond instead of a spade, declarer will lose two spades but no diamonds. In either case, South easily makes his contract.

What if East, rather than West, has the fourth club? In that case, to be sure, South must ruff instead of discarding a diamond, but nothing has been lost. South can lead a spade from his hand and will make his contract if West has the queen of spades or if East has the king of diamonds.

The point is that it costs nothing to find out about the clubs. If West has the fourth club, the contract can be assured by a "loser on loser" discard. And if East has the fourth club, South can fall back on his plays in spades and diamonds.

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, Nov. 12—A meeting to dispose of the school building in former Common School District 7 was held in the church hall at Mt. Tremper Friday evening. The school building is located at Mt. Tremper. By a vote of the qualified voters in District 7 it was decided to sell the building and grounds to the Community Association of Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant for one dollar. The Community Association plans to use the building and grounds for community projects and recreational activities. Part of the property will be allocated as the site for the proposed firehouse in Mt. Tremper. The Association has guaranteed to continue to supply the church and Grange Hall with water from the school's well. Such provision will be incorporated in the deed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spinosa of Brooklyn and Mt. Tremper were hosts at a housewarming at their new Chestnutwood Hill home Saturday evening. The 16 guests included Mr. and Mrs. Conrad J. Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Al Uehlinger, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Modjeska, Mr. and Mrs. Levan Merrihew, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sickler, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Winne, Sr., Frank Niece and Mrs. Irene Sines. Dinner was served. The Spinosas expect to live here permanently in the near future.

Four local aspirants for the position of postmaster of the Mt. Tremper Postoffice took the civil service examination at Kingston Saturday. They were Mrs. Margaret Byron, Mrs. Alta deSilva, Burton Lane and J. Sager. Mr. Lane is now serving as temporary postmaster.

Installation of new officers of Mt. Tremper Grange 1468 was held at Asbury Grange Monday evening.

He'll Eat Crow

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—C. M. Vandeburg, who literally will eat crow today in a Times Square restaurant, says the meat is "rather dark and stringy—but edible." Vandeburg, executive director of the American Heritage Foundation, headed a campaign for maximum registration and voting and promised he'd eat crow publicly if the presidential balloting failed to reach 63 million. Thus far the official vote count is about 60 million, not including the soldier vote.

Life Reproduces Doris Lee Sketches

Woodstock, Nov. 12—A series of paintings by Doris Lee, Woodstock artist, made from sketches drawn during a trip to North Africa last winter are reproduced in color in the Nov. 10 issue of Life magazine, along with an article titled An Artist in Africa.

Miss Lee's simplified, yet exquisitely detailed, style of painting is particularly suited for the depiction of life in the Arab world from Tangier to Tunis, employing the vivid colors which Miss Lee herself described as "pumpkin yellow" or "the blue of bluing."

One of the paintings shows an Oasis in Tunis which "boasts an Arab restaurant where travelers can enjoy native stews and breads." Another presents a Snake Charmer, "accompanied by a motley musical trio" serenading a snake, in hopes that passers-by will reward his minor-key melody with a contribution of coins.

In a large two-page spread Miss Lee has shown an animated map painting, Artist's-eye View of North Africa, an engaging composite of the "sights and native products that impressed Doris Lee." A mural-like "parade of passers-by was sketched in a square at Marrakesh, where water bearers and musicians mingle with nomads and veiled Moslem ladies."

The cool and charming "Garden in Carthage, adjoins museum where ancient Roman and African relics are preserved," and "Market in Tunis is filled with every kind of shop, including a drugstore and a jeweler's stall." Two white-clad veiled Arab ladies are inspecting a merchant's wares.

Doris Lee was accompanied on the journey by her husband, Arnold Blanch, on their first trip to the Arab world which they were anxious to see "before everything was modernized."

Community Chorus To Sing in Village

Woodstock, Nov. 12—The Catskill-Hudson Community Chorus, under the direction of Rolland E. Heermance of Saugerties, will present a Christmas song fest Tuesday, Dec. 9, at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church at 8 p. m. Heermance was the director for the singing of Christmas carols on the village green last Dec. 24 during the annual program sponsored by the Woodstock Square Club.

A group of children singers from the Katsbaan Church directed by Eleanor Porter also will sing with the chorus Dec. 9.

The Catskill-Hudson Community Chorus began rehearsals for its 1952 Christmas concerts in September and will present a program of Christmas carols and songs in early December in Upper Red Hook, Saugerties, Catskill and Hudson as well as in Woodstock. The participating singers come from a wide area on both sides of the river from Saugerties to Athens, from Cornwallville to Hudson.

Heermance, director of the Community Chorus, is probably best known as the director of the Catskill Glee Club, a men's choral group of long standing, well known in this area. He is also director of the Treble Choraliers, a women's group of the Catskill-Hudson area, the Manufacturers Men's Chorus of Bridgeport, Conn., and is in charge of music in the First Reformed Churches of both Hudson and Catskill.

Stewart Gardner, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Charles Bold, librarian. There are at present about 60 members of the chorus.

Perlmutter Candles Featured in Tribune

Woodstock, Nov. 12—The unique candles created by Danny and Patty Perlmutter of the Candelier, located in this village, were featured in an article on the women's page of the New York Herald Tribune, Monday, Nov. 10.

The Perlmutters told Helen Carlton of the Tribune, as they explained to this reporter last spring as reported in The Freeman, that their candles are considered so decorative "that many of their customers refuse to burn them. To their amazement the Perlmutters have found that a good number of their festive designs are bought to be kept on the mantelpiece to join the ranks of other permanent family possessions such as clocks, fine china and sentimental bric-a-brac.

A photograph of Patty Perlmutter appears with the article showing a number of her candle designs—the flower holder candle, the bottle, Mexican jugs and rope twist candle. Danny and Patty also are shown with two of her latest designs, Driftwood and the decorative Reindeer Antler candle.

Marvin Completes Major Screen Role

Woodstock, Nov. 12—Lee Marvin, who appeared at the Maverick Theatre several summers ago, has recently completed his first major screen role in Hollywood in the Columbia picture, Eight Iron Men. The picture was reviewed in the December issue of Silver Screen and described as "excellent drama that has a completely masculine approach especially in several ribald dream sequences."

Marvin, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Marvin of the Wittenberg road, also is featured in the technicolor film, Hangman's Knot, with Randy Scott, and received excellent notices for his work in the picture.

Following the completion of studies at the American Theatre Wing School in New York, Marvin appeared on many television programs. He also has acted as assistant director for several of the movies in which he has appeared.

Legion Holds Annual Armistice Day Dance

Woodstock, Nov. 13 — The Woodstock American Legion Post 1026 held its annual Armistice Day dance Tuesday night at the town hall. Don Pierson's orchestra played for the occasion.

During the evening a program of entertainment was presented. With Grant Decker serving as master of ceremonies, Lee Carey opened the program with accordion selections including Blue Tango, Beer Barrel Polka and Toot Toot Tootsie. Helmut Salewsky followed with accordion selections of Twentieth Century Overture, Danny Boy and Ferrow Papa. Decker then introduced young Willie Salewsky, a four-year-old, who sang I Want a Girl, accompanied by his brother.

Several tap dances were presented by Bobbie Fisher, of Kingston, who has appeared on the Ted Mack show. An unusual treat in boogie-woogie piano was given by DeCosta Dawson of Kingston who played Boogie-Woogie, Body and Soul, Tea for Two and Serenade.

An excellent swing combination composed of Charles Khederian, banjoist, of Wappingers Falls, Gary of Wittenberg on drums, and Mrs. Grant Decker, piano, presented a jam session. Gary and Khederian played St. Louis Blues, Peg of My Heart and Lonely. Mrs. Decker joined them to play Roll Out the Barrel and Pennsylvania Polka.

Music for square dancing was played by Bill Dodd of West Hurley and Bill Johnson of High Woods.

Although all who attended remarked on the fine quality of the evening's entertainment only a small crowd attended the dance and members of the Legion were disappointed in the turn-out.

Gifts for the occasion were given by Wayne Underhill of the Woodstock Dry Cleaners, John Peacock, the Woodstock Colonial Pharmacy and John Ruhmann. They were presented to Mrs. Roger Grazier, Mrs. Albert Moore, Mrs. G. A. Nussbaum, Billy Waterous, Marianne Harlow, Fennell Franckling and Mrs. Henry Grazier.

It was also voted to have four or more consignors' meetings a year. ### No High-Brow Reading

Waco, Tex. (AP) — Girls read the comics first in a newspaper and boys the sport page, a librarian found out from a study of reading habits of Baylor University students. All the students interviewed by Mrs. L. W. Wood, Baylor librarian, claimed to read some of every section of daily newspapers. She also found fewer than 1 per cent of the students spent their spare time reading such magazines as Harpers, Atlantic Monthly or Saturday Review of Literature. On the other hand, True Confessions and True Story, which rank second and eighth respectively in national circulation, didn't even place in the Baylor survey. Among the 20 most popular books for spare time reading listed those interviewed, Shakespeare had none. Mickey Spillane, the new writer of sexy detective stories, had five.

From MP to GI Barber

With U. S. Second Division in Korea (AP)—Remember the military policeman in the movie "Up Front" who was always "barbering" Joe and Willie in Italy? Guess what he's doing now. He's in the Army for sure, and not in the movies. And he's a real barber, not a movie MP who always was giving someone a verbal hair cut. He's Pfc. Bill Roach, West Terre Haute, Ind. He arrived in Korea last July. Asked how come he turned out to be an Army barber—instead of an MP for instance—Roach said: "That's how I paid my way through Ohio State and Otterbein College, so it's almost a profession."

Visa Fees Canceled

Tokyo (AP) — Japan and the United States have agreed to forego visa fees and other charges in an effort to stimulate tourist travel between the two countries. The arrangement went into effect Oct. 1. Under the agreement Americans are exempt from paying $4.50 in fees when applying for visas to Japan. Japanese nationals are exempted from paying $10 for a temporary visit to the United States, and a $7 head tax levied on foreign entrants.

Court Hearing Is To Be Held About Pharmacal Firm

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—A court hearing will be held tomorrow in a civil case against a pharmacal company accused of fraudulent stock manipulations and wooing physicians and pharmacists to push the firm's products.

State Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg signed an order yesterday requiring the Colin Pharmacal Company, of Queens, and its officers to show cause tomorrow why they should not be restrained from stock transactions pending final judgment in the case.

Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein, who instituted the proceedings yesterday, seeks a permanent injunction against sale of stock and appointment of a receiver for the company.

Co-defendants in the case are Colin's 13 officers and directors, six of whom are doctors and seven are druggists.

The case is the first court action in Goldstein's five-month-old investigation of doctor-druggist-drug manufacturer tieups.

Counsel for the company said in a statement that it had done nothing unethical.

State Loses Third of Its Farms in 30-Year Span

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—New York state has one-third fewer farms and 4½ million fewer farm acres than 30 years ago, the Census Bureau says.

The number of Empire State farms fell from 193,195 in 1920 to 124,977 in 1950, the bureau said yesterday.

During the same period, farm acreage dropped from 20,632,803 to 16,016,721.

The bureau said the shrinkage in the number of farms reflected the passing of many small farms. In the 30-year period, the average size of New York farms rose 106.8 acres to 128.2.

Indian Display at Onteora School

A portion of the loan exhibition of Indian artifacts from the Brooklyn Museum now on exhibit at the Onteora Central School. The exhibit is peculiarly appropriate, it was pointed out, in view of the fact that the school has an Indian name. Among the objects in the exhibit are an archaic "coil" pottery bowl from the Zuni Indians, a sacred ceremonial painted, "terrace-edged" Zuni bowl, some beautiful deerskin garments, fringed and beaded, one with silver bells on the fringe and another with a fringe of thimbles as bells, a stone hammer, a combination tomahawk and pipe, a papoose cradle and birchbark canoe model, two beautiful masks, a tortoise rattle and beaded moccasins.

MacArthur Papers Are In Army Custody Now

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP) — Thirty-two packing cases of documents Gen. Douglas MacArthur had brought from Japan and stored in a Brooklyn warehouse have been transferred to army custody in New York.

Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn, deputy chief of army information, said yesterday the transfer took place about two weeks ago and, as far as he knew, was not the result of any political pressure.

Demands had been made that MacArthur turn the papers over to the army after it was reported the general was retaining possession of them for writing a personal history.

Dorn, announcing the transfer, said it followed an agreement worked out "amicably" between MacArthur and Lt. Gen. Willis Crittenberger, First Army commander. He said MacArthur still has access to the documents.

Typhoon in Batanes

Manila, Nov. 13 (AP) — A 115-mile-an-hour typhoon thrashed through the Batanes island cluster off the northern Philippines today, then blew into the China Sea toward southern Formosa. There were no reports of loss of life or property damage from the Batanes.

Chamber Plans Group to Attract Industry to City

A special committee was appointed this week at the directors' meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce to consider the possibility of creating an industrial development corporation. The committee will also meet in the near future with the representative of a firm desirous of locating in Kingston, and determine if the necessary financing can be worked out.

A spokesman for the Chamber stated that this project would involve the construction of a new building of 50,000 square feet with the cost completely amortized by a long-time lease. The Chamber of Commerce would like to receive comments from businessmen and the public regarding the possible financial support such a proposal might receive. Support would be in the nature of an investment to create additional jobs in the city.

Prompt and favorable action was reported by two special committees. One was commitments from the New York State Bridge Authority indicating definite progress toward the construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge and the other was in connection with the enforcement of the city ordinance regarding the sidewalk display of merchandise. James L. Rowe is chairman of the special bridge committee.

Reports Are Heard

In addition to work on industrial expansion, Albert Kurdt, executive secretary, reported on the recent area legislative conference, four speaking engagements, meetings of the retail merchants committee, and the Ulster County Agricultural Society which sponsors the free Ulster County Fair. Saturday a meeting of representatives of the State Rural Mail Carriers was attended by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk at which plans for their convention next summer were discussed. It was also reported that the paid membership in the Chamber of Commerce for 1952-1953 is now 389 with sufficient commitments to balance the budget for the year. It was also announced that the time of the weekly public service program over radio station WKNY has been changed to 4:45 p. m. on Saturdays.

President Lawrence J. MacAvery stated that the Tuesday meeting was one of the best attended and most interesting board meetings held in a long time.

Dwarf Apple Trees

Lexington, Ky. (AP) — Experiments with dwarf apple trees at the University of Kentucky experiment station indicate that this type of tree may be grown in the backyard. Dr. C. S. Waltman says that early production, easy spraying and harvesting make them practical. The trees, planted at the experiment station farm 10 years ago, are 10 feet tall and produced as much as nine bushels a tree. The trees begin bearing fruit as early as the second or third year, he reports. They should be planted 10 to 15 feet apart in the late fall or early spring.

BUTTER COOKIE TIME

Christmas time is Butter Cookie Time. Cookies for parties, cookies for snacking, cookies for giving—you'll need dozens! No Christmas gift will be more welcome by your friends or neighbors than a colorful box, basket or bag of gayly decorated butter cookies. Crisp and crunchy, these cookies when made into fancy shapes and decorated attractively are the ideal refreshment accompaniment for informal entertaining. The sweet delicious butter flavor is one that will invite requests for "second-servings."

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
1½ cups granulated sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup chopped candied cherries
¾ cup chopped or broken pecans
1 oz. sweet milk chocolate, melted

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream butter until soft and gradually blend in sugar. Add egg and vanilla, and beat vigorously until smooth and fluffy. Add flour mixture and mix thoroughly. Divide dough into 3 portions. Add chopped cherries to one portion, and nuts and chocolate to the second.

Roll part of each dough in waxed paper and chill several hours in the refrigerator. When ready to bake, slice very thin. Place on buttered cookie sheets and bake in a hot oven, 400° F., about 10 minutes or until delicately browned.

The remaining dough may be placed in a cookie press and pressed out into fancy shapes on buttered cookie sheets. Bake at the same time and same temperature as those that are sliced. Makes about 8 dozen thin cookies.

CHRISTMAS FRUIT COOKIES

½ cup softened butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
¾ cup coarsely chopped pecans
¾ cup candied or Maraschino cherries
¾ cup chopped dates
¼ cup buttermilk

Cream together the butter and brown sugar. Add unbeaten egg and beat well. Sift together the dry ingredients. Add to creamed mixture along with the fruit and buttermilk. Drop by teaspoonfuls on lightly buttered cookie sheets, about 2 inches apart. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400°) about 10 minutes. Makes 35 to 40 small cookies. Both red and green Maraschino cherries, cut crosswise in slices may be used.

Fisherman Nets Torpedo

Providence, R. I. (AP)—The tug on Joseph Whaley's fishing net was so great he summoned his son Howard for help. When the nets were finally raised the "fish" turned out to be of the tin variety—a 20-foot torpedo. The torpedo was encrusted with barnacles and tangled with the remains of a half-dozen fishing nets. Young Whaley delivered his catch to the Coast Guard.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

If you try to unscramble the news, gossip, and guesses, since the election, the Ruminator thinks it comes down to this:

President-elect Eisenhower will be pressured into making international decisions (or "unofficial commitments") while steering clear of domestic problems.

The general opinion of his advisers doubtless is in line with the universal forecasts that domestic affairs will ride along on a high ridge without much interruption for several months at least. So I should guess that the general will not be forced into awkward comments on domestic policies. If you put yourself in his place, wouldn't you avoid expressing yourself on national problems until after Mr. Truman has released his messages to the Congress early in January?

But the pressure on foreign affairs is something else again. The general is being bombarded from all corners of the world with "urgent messages": from western Europe, from Korea and Japan (and probably from Formosa), and from the United Nations.

He is being told that his opinions are essential, or all discussions will come to a halt. President Truman didn't give Mr. Eisenhower time to play 18 holes of golf before he started sending messages and couriers to Augusta. And yet, mind you, the President thought nothing of leaving his desk for weeks while he hammered away that General Eisenhower wasn't fit to be president.

The truth of the matter is that international affairs are at a critical impasse.

Not only the stalemate in Korea—which must have the general's immediate attention—but the whole political set-up in western Europe is teetering on unsteady supports.

Recent trends of thought in Germany and France require earnest debate, or the NATO concept and program may fall apart. General Eisenhower is intimately familiar with this organization, but what is not definitely known is his personal policy concerning continued financial support to the collective security agency. NATO, therefore, could be in jeopardy, if the incoming president does not let his proposed policies become known. On the other hand, he has no authority, of course, until January 20, 1953. He thus has the hard choice of permitting his policies to become known in an "off-the-record" fashion, which would almost be sure to cause misunderstandings and be misinterpreted—or to thrust himself into a situation where he has no authority whatever.

The general's personal position in these delicate matters is not the only problem. He knows full well that the new Congress is not as "internationally minded" — is more conservative — than heretofore. That is not to imply that the Congress will be "isolationist" but that the controlling groups will unquestionably examine with deliberation any extension of foreign aid.

The Ruminator thinks that the idea of going to Korea may have a double advantage for Eisenhower.

He will accomplish the primary objective of determining whether or not there is any way in which the Korean war can be shortened. That is the purpose, obviously.

Secondly, however, it will enable him to get away from the pressures being applied that he voice his opinion on questions he has had no time to analyze. It would be smart if he found excuses to remain away for a long enough period to (1) think out and discuss with his advisers the many problems confronting him, and (2) to allow his representatives in Washington and elsewhere to compile their reports for him. Certainly, the world has stood still for such a long time as it is, a few more weeks, or even months, would be unlikely to cause a panic. The general's method has been to get full staff reports before acting, and so I think we may sleep nights without expecting a bombshell at breakfast as was the case in the early years of the New Deal.

It always has to be added that everything one writes or says "is subject to a surprise move on the part of Russia."

Readers may find little in the above that has to do with "contrary opinions" which is the subtitle of this column. That would be a fair criticism. However, when a political upheaval occurs, as it did last week—an upheaval that was unexpected by millions — it takes time for "opinions" to congeal. Soon we shall again have accepted viewpoints to discuss contrarily—and in the meantime the Ruminator is starting southward for the winter, whence these pieces will be written "until the sap runs."

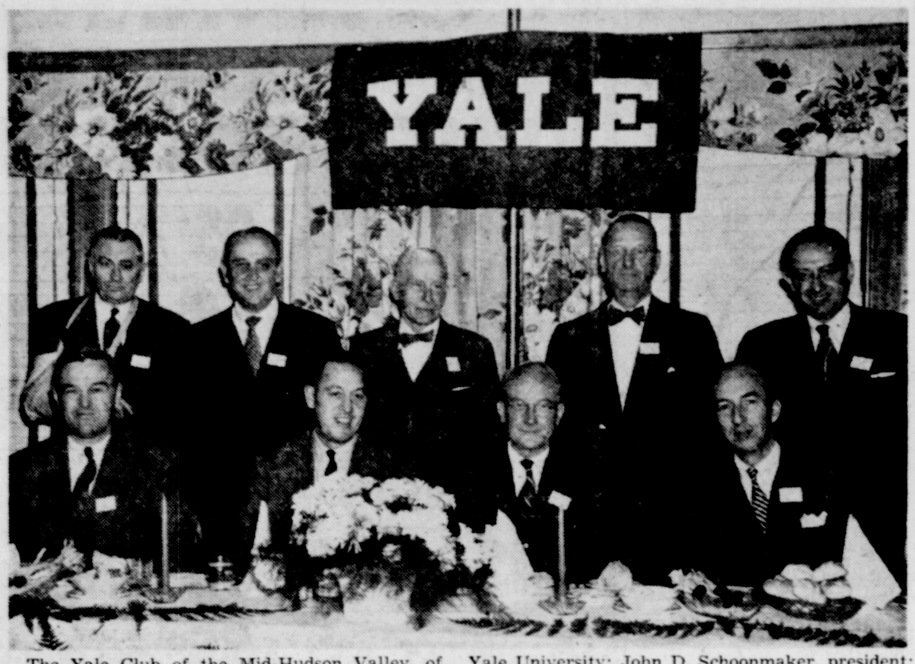
Yale Club Has Dinner at Williams Lake, First in Locale



The Yale Club of the Mid-Hudson Valley, of which John D. Schoonmaker Jr., of Island Dock, Inc., is president, met for the first time in this locality, Wednesday evening at Williams Lake. Among the more than 50 members in attendance were from left, seated, John C. Calhoun, Millbrook; Charles M. O'Hearn, assistant to the president of Yale University; John D. Schoonmaker, president; and S. Dillon Ripley, professor of zoology at Yale, and guest speaker. Standing, also from left, Dr. Russell B. Scobie, Newburgh; H. Law Weatherwax, Hyde Park; Thomas A. Horton and Robert R. Rodie of Kingston, and Bernard Wiess, Monticello. (Freeman photo)

Students Extolled For Mature Thought By Yale Official

"Students, today, show greater maturity than their predecessors in the evaluation of a good education," Charles M. O'Hearn, assistant to the president of Yale University, told a group of more than 50 Yale alumni members in attendance at a dinner meeting of the Yale Club of Mid-Hudson Valley, Wednesday evening at Williams Lake Hotel.

John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., president of the Mid-Hudson group, in a brief address of welcome expressed appreciation to the many members who had traveled long distances to attend the dinner. He also introduced Mr. O'Hearn and the guest speaker, F. Dillon Ripley, professor of zoology at Yale University.

The average age of students at the university has been a little higher because of the number of veterans in attendance during the past several years. Mr. O'Hearn attributed the noticeable change in the attitude of the student body at the university to the influence exerted by the large number of World War 2 veterans completing their education. "The student of today is much more competitive," he said.

Alumni Support

The outstanding faculty at Yale came in for its share of praise, too, by Mr. O'Hearn. He also paid tribute to the alumni body "which contributes to continuing Yale's standing as a great university." He concluded his brief address by assuring those present that "Yale cannot stand without your full support, spiritually as well as financially."

Noted Ornithologist

A veteran of World War 2, active in Siamese underground work during the war and cited by General William Donovan, Professor Ripley confined his remarks to ornithology, a branch of zoology treating of birds. He is a noted authority in this field and has a large collection of wild fowl in his preserve in Litchfield, Conn.

Mr. Ripley lived, for many years, in the Far East and has traveled widely in southeast Asia. He has collected rare bird specimens for many years, even during his service with the OSS in Asia. In 1949, he explored Nepal, where he was the first white man to visit certain remote areas. His latest book, Search for the Spiny Babbler, was published last spring.

Aims and Objects Topic at Rotary

The aims, objects and origin of Rotary International was the topic of the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, immediate past president of Kingston Rotary, at the luncheon-meeting held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant. His discussion of the ideal of service and the high ethical standards in business and professions and their application was one of the most forceful ever given before the local service club.

Acquainting the newest members of the club with the history, objectives and scope of the organization, the speaker explained that the motivating force behind the movement was friendship and understanding, which afforded both an opportunity and responsibility to the individual member. Holding tenaciously to and promoting these objectives, he said, the organization steadily has grown in constructive influence in the community and throughout the world, because the fostering of goodwill, understanding and friendship is not limited to the membership but to the peoples of the world.

The first Rotary Club in the world was formed in Chicago in 1905 by Paul Harris, a lawyer, who suggested the form of organization to a few friends and with them instituted the club. The club was called Rotary because their first meetings were held in rotation in the offices of the various members. Men of the different religious beliefs were its founders.

In 1910 the first Rotary Club outside the United States was organized in Winnipeg, Canada. Today there are Rotary Clubs in approximately 70 different countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Neighbors Dislike 14 Hours of His Singing

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Young Morton Bloom thinks nothing of singing 14 hours a day—and his neighbors think even less of it.

In no dulcet tones it all came out in magistrate's court yesterday, with 10 Queens residents living within a block of 17-year-old Bloom complaining that he sang almost every day from 7:30 a. m. to 9:30 at night.

"If he could sing," one complainant told Magistrate Charles F. Murphy, "I wouldn't mind. He yells and it cuts through you like a saw."

Murphy, learning that Bloom often stayed home from high school classes just to sing, told the youth:

"There's a talent scout looking for you—the truant officer."

Murphy decreed that Bloom sing only in the school auditorium or in the nearly-soundproof basement of his apartment house—and not for 14 hours.

Bloom (who lives at 84-50 57th avenue, Elmhurst, Queens), told the court he went to a vocal teacher three years ago.

"I sang only one song and she told me I had possibilities," he said.

Employment Increases

Bonn, Germany, Nov. 13 (AP)—Employment in West Germany has hit a new four-year high of approximately 15½ million and unemployment is at a new post-war low of 1,028,000, the federal labor ministry reported today. Employment increased approximately 300,000 since July 1 and nearly 600,000 since October, 1951. Unemployment has been steadily declining this year.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Chickens, large eggs and most fresh vegetables cost a little more in many retail food stores this week. Pork prices levelled off after weeks of declines. Lamb and citrus fruits moved lower.

With wholesale food costs holding fairly steady, consumer price changes were generally small and shopping specials announced by the big chains and independent markets for the next few days covered a wide range.

In the meat line, these were popular items for special pricing: Lamb legs and shoulder roasts, veal legs, rumps, rib chops, shoulders and stew cuts, beef rib roasts and round roasts, pork loins, smoked hams and ducklings.

Prices Move Higher

Frying and broiling chickens moved up 2 to 6 cents a pound in widespread areas, reflecting broiler production curtailment several weeks ago because of low retail prices at that time.

Lamb was off 2 to as much as 7 cents a pound. Dealers attributed heavier supplies to a disinclination on the part of producers to hold their stock for fattening at today's relatively high feed costs.

A note looking ahead to Thanksgiving Day menus two weeks hence: Meat buyers for major chains said turkeys probably will cost 2 to 5 cents a pound less just before the holiday than they do now, and about 5 cents below last Thanksgiving. The gobbler crop is expected to set a record this year. Cranberries are reported to be somewhat less plentiful, however, and a little more expensive—particularly in fresh form.

Vegetables Are Up

A long list of fresh vegetables were up slightly this week, a normal between-seasons trend for this time of years when supplies from nearby gardens are about exhausted and shipments from the south and southwest have not yet gained full volume.

Higher but still in the good buy class in most places were beets, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, cabbage (one of the lowest-cost items), onions and spinach. Broccoli, cucumbers, peppers, sweet potatoes and tomatoes also cost more. Winter squash continued low-priced and a thrifty buy but summer types were higher.

Snap beans were a little lower as shipments from Florida began picking up in earnest. Receipts of endive and escarole from the south also were heavier. Lettuce was being offered in a wide range of quality and condition but the new crop was starting from Arizona and was expected to be arriving in good volume in distant markets in a week or so.

Grapefruit Is Lower

Grapefruit, both seeded and seedless types, were a popular special-priced fruit featured in many stores and prices were lower. Both California and Florida oranges worked lower.

Table grapes, particularly the plentiful emperors, were being heavily promoted. Russet Bosc pears were superseding the Bartletts in most markets and were lower. Apples were about unchanged.

The Agriculture Department stressed table grapes and ducks as most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week.

Arthur C. Nielsen, head of the research company bearing his name, told the annual meeting of Grocery Manufactures of America this week that food store sales on a tonnage basis climbed 38 per cent between 1942 and the first half of this year.

He reported that the number of chain food stores in this period has declined about 17,000 units in the continuing trend toward fewer but bigger stores. Chain stores now average $532,800 in gross sales a year, against $105,600 ten years ago, he said, and the chains account for 38.6 per cent of the total grocery business.

Nielsen also surveyed the trend toward more shopper self-service in the retail food industry and reported that while in 1940 only 26 per cent of the grocery store business was in self-service stores, nearly 70 per cent of the total is self-service today.

Coffee Bags

Now you can make coffee with a new device like tea bags, recently perfected. Just put the coffee bag in the cup, pour boiling water over it, and there you are. The bags also may be used in the coffee pot, one to a cup. The new coffee bags now are available, marketed by a number of popular brand coffee companies.

American Education Week Observance

Material Bureau Helps Make Study More Meaningful

The Student Council of School 7 is viewing a newly-organized bureau of materials for making arithmetic meaningful during this week of the observance of American Education Week.

The arithmetic program today requires a stimulating environment of concrete materials which give meaning and significance to the work being done, a teacher at the uptown school pointed out.

The spokesman added, it also requires a wide variety of learning aids which help the pupils to master the skills and abilities related to the mathematical and social phases of arithmetic.

The school official said "a sure way to make learning meaningful and vital is to draw on the activities of the community and its resources for illustrative materials, or to contact them directly through excursions and visitations."

Instruments in the materials' bureau help to make measurements on the following:

Quantity, length, time, value, weight, area, volume and temperature.

The background pocket holders contain information collected from local industries and public service organizations which give practical application of skills taught.

Breeding Pays Off

Raleigh, N. C. (AP)—Through artificial insemination, a recently sold bull left behind him a record of having been bred to more than 6,000 cows over a period of 2½ years. T. C. Blalock, extension dairy specialist at North Carolina State College, says that on the basis of a 70 per cent conception rate, 4,200 calves were fathered. The bull's first 14 daughters averaged 2,680 pounds of milk more than their dams during the first lactation.

Dessert That's Different

Here's a gelatin dessert that's a little different. Make up a package of orange-flavored gelatin and pour into a square pan; chill until jelled. Cut into small squares and place in individual glass serving dishes. Top with a layer of whipped sweetened evaporated milk, fresh orange sections, and a garnish of maraschino cherry.

Peace Talks Week Away for Truckers

Albany, Nov. 13 (AP)—A federal mediator says peace talks are at least a week away in the strike of about 1,000 AFL truck drivers against employers in eastern New York.

John A. Rooney said yesterday he was holding separate meetings with officials of Local 294, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and the Highway Transportation Association of Upstate New York, which represents the employers.

However, Rooney said a joint meeting was "at the earliest a week away."

The walkout, which began Nov. 7, stemmed from a dispute over wages and other benefits. It affected 60 general trucking firms in the area from Glens Falls south to Poughkeepsie.

About 30 truckers, most of them employer-drivers, were said yesterday to have reached a separate temporary agreement with the union, with final terms to be fixed by the general contract later.

Some Pressure Off

Their operation eased some of the pressure for shipment of critical cargoes.

The striking drivers reportedly seek a wage increase and fringe benefits. The truckers association is said to have offered a 10-cent hourly wage boost, subject to Wage Stabilization Board approval.

Rooney said the drivers now receive 7¾ cents a mile, with 20 miles an hour considered the normal road speed. This would make their present scale about $1.55 an hour.

The previous contract expired last Aug. 1, but had been continued until the walkout on a day-to-day basis, while agreement was sought.

Nixon Popular as Speaker

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Vice President-elect Nixon has enough speech invitations to keep him busy on a one-a-day basis for more than three months. Aides told a reporter today that Nixon, already a popular speaker, has been deluged with about 100 invitations since last week's election. They range from a request for his appearance at the inauguration of the president of Mexico Dec. 1, to invitations from several colleges for commencement addresses next June. Nixon so far has accepted none of them.

Remember War Heroes in Third Ward

Armistice Day ceremonies, commemorating sacrifices made by heroes of America's two world wars and the Korean conflict, were held Tuesday at the Third ward memorial commemorating those who gave their lives for their country. Among those in attendance were Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, First Lieut. Forrest R. Prindle, pastor of the Church of the Comforter in the ward, and chaplain of the 854th Engineers Aviation Battalion; Mrs. Stanley Matthews, past president of the Department of New York, American Legion Auxiliary, and Sgt. Joseph Edward Sills, a resident of the ward recently returned from Korea. After comments by the mayor and a prayer by Chaplain Prindle, Bugler J. R. Mayone of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, sounded taps as the Flag was lowered to half mast. (Anner photo)

Nancy Admits She Got Cloth Scenes On Love-Making

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Model Nancy Hawkins says dress manufacturer Samuel Chapman gave her and a girl friend pieces of cloth showing "love-making" scenes.

Miss Hawkins testified yesterday in the trial of Chapman, accused of possessing indecent photographs and other pornographic items. Chapman was arrested during the city-wide probe of high-priced vice involving reported $500-a-night call girls. Miss Hawkins is a material witness in the probe.

She said in a Special Sessions Court that she and her roommate, Joan Douglas, got a couple of Easter dresses wholesale from Chapman and then accompanied him and an unidentified male friend to Chapman's apartment.

She was kissing the unidentified man, Miss Hawkins said, when Chapman appeared.

"Mr. Chapman opened the curtain between the two rooms and took a bolt of cloth from the closet and tore a piece off and gave it to me," Miss Hawkins said.

Other Model Talks

Miss Douglas, also a material witness in the vice probe, gave similar testimony about the illustrated cloth.

The prosecution rested its case against Chapman yesterday.

A motion for dismissal of the case by Defense Counsel Paul O'Dwyer was denied. The trial resumes today.

Chapman, charged on 15 counts, could be sentenced up to 15 years if found guilty.

Chapman also is charged with procuring women, but not with the intention of making a profit. This case still is pending in court.

During her testimony, Miss Hawkins gave her occupation as a model "for coats, suits and cheesecake."

Special Sessions Justice Emilio Nunez, presiding over the three-judge bench, asked, "What's cheesecake?"

"Modeling in scanties, abbreviated bathing suits or G-strings," replied Miss Hawkins.

"What do you mean by G-strings?" asked Nunez.

"Just enough to cover up the vital parts," answered the witness.

Also testifying were two detectives who arrested Chapman. They told of finding the cloth mentioned by the young women as well as allegedly indecent statues and photographs in Chapman's apartment.

He's Short Cuts

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Beef of the day: A dealer complained to police a truck loaded with $10,000 worth of meat—more than 8,000 pounds of assorted cuts—had been stolen from a warehouse.

Mid-Continent Has Indian Summer

(By The Associated Press)

It looked like a return of Indian summer weather to the mid-continent today.

Southerly winds extended from Texas to the Dakotas and Lake Superior. Temperatures early today were above freezing as far north as southern Minnesota and Iowa. Daytime readings in the 60's and 70's were forecast for the midwest.

Clear, cool weather continued along the Atlantic coast and in the southeastern states, temperatures were near or below freezing early today from New England to central parts of Alabama and Georgia.

Rain fell in the Pacific Northwest, with showers reported as far east as Montana and south to Fresno, Calif. Falls of more than one inch were reported in coastal sections of Oregon.

No Sale Though

Des Moines, Nov. 13 (AP)—Ray Bruckman, a fire engine salesman, heard opportunity knock. Bruckman, of Rock Island, Ill., yesterday drove one of his trucks to the home of Ray Hoff, chief of the North Des Moines Volunteer Fire Fighters Association, in the hope of making a sale. Arriving in time to learn of a fire on a nearby farm, he and Hoff hurried off in the new truck to help extinguish a burning hay stack. The demonstration was great, said Hoff. "No sale," said Bruckman.

Smoking does not dull taste, according to the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry.

Committee Maps Plans for Symphony Concert, Nov. 29

A musical treat is being provided for the community by a group of business firms who are underwriting the appearance of the Rochester Symphony Orchestra in the Kingston High School auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 29. The proceeds from the concert will be given to the Children's Home. Making plans Wednesday afternoon for what they hope will be a "sell-out", were committee members, seated from left, Mrs. Louis Kegler, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb Sr., and standing, also from left, Mrs. Larry V. Bogert and Mrs. Richard Shults.

The Canfield Supply Company, Shults Paint Company, and the Saugerties Coal and Lumber Company, have assumed full financial responsibility for bringing the famous orchestra to this city.

Tickets are on sale at O'Reilly's and the Kingston City Library, and may also be obtained from any member of the committee. (Freeman photo)

GOOD TASTE TODAY

By EMILY POST

(Author of 'Etiquette,' 'Children Are People,' etc.)

WHO SITS WHERE?

A girl writes: "I am going steady with a certain young man. Every time his mother drives in the car with us she insists on sitting in the front seat, leaving me to sit in the back seat of the car. I believe this is downright rude, but she seems to think this is the proper procedure. Will you please give me your opinion?"

The wisest move on your part is to let the mother sit where she wants to and show no resentment against her choice.

It's Best to Consult Her

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter and her fiance have a problem which they asked me to write you about. She thinks that she should help choose her engagement ring, and her fiance thinks that she should not. Will you please tell me which one is right?

Answer: Usually and also correctly the man has several rings within his means set aside and then he takes her to the jewelers and asks her which of these she prefers.

Do Not Encourage Error

Dear Mrs. Post: Do good manners require a host or hostess in order to avoid embarrassing a guest to deliberately make a mistake either in pronouncing a word, or in their table manners just because a guest in their house had done so?

Answer: To do this really would be mistaken kindness. Two errors do not make a right—quite on the contrary.

Cancel Plans for Shower

Dear Mrs. Post: I had intended to give my future daughter-in-law a briday shower but my son came home unexpectedly on a furlough and they decided to be married immediately while he was home on leave so there was no time to give a shower. I would like to know if I may still go on with my plan to give her a bridal shower now that they are married?

Answer: Wedding presents are more important than shower presents and the shower might cancel the wedding presents.

* * *

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but if your question is about weddings, you will find booklet No. 501, "Weddings," very helpful when planning the ceremony, clothes of the bridal party and the reception. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to her, c/o The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Riding Club Names AHSA Delegates, Plans New Building

Following a meeting of the board of directors of the Woodstock Riding Club on Wednesday night, it was announced that Mrs. George M. Hard of Ulster Park, had been named as delegate to the American Horse Show Association's annual conference in New York City, scheduled for late December. Mrs. Herbert H. Cutler, 16 John street, is the alternate. The meeting took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frielan Van de Bogart, Bearsville.

The directors also discussed the size and type of building which is to be erected on the club's Ohayo Mountain property, and decided it would be practical to consider one of the type that would eventually serve as a wing to a proposed main clubhouse and stable. Griffin Herrick, president, was authorized to have plans drawn and estimates of costs prepared immediately.

Horse Show Appropriation

An appropriation of $550 was made to cover the initial expenses to be incurred in conjunction with the licensed horse show, sponsored annually during the month of June. Mrs. Hard is show chairman, and advised the directors that a tentative prize list and committees will be submitted at the next regular meeting of the organization on Thursday, Nov. 20, in the Dutch Reformed Church hall in Woodstock. The final prize list, she explained, cannot be prepared until after the AHSA conference when action is generally taken on any and all new rulings governing recognized shows.

Charles Ashley, 287 Pearl street, chairman of the educational committee, reported favorably upon the recent showing in Woodstock of a series of Jockey Club films which he said the members found to be very instructive and interesting. Additional educational activities will be presented during the winter months.

Directors attending last night's meeting were Griffin Herrick, Woodstock; Virgil Van Wagonen and Frielan Van de Bogart, Bearsville; George M. Hard, Ulster Park; Mrs. Alton Dietz, Hurley; and Mr. Ashley.

Twentieth Century Club Has Program

Information pertaining to Catskill Mountain Lore, and Australia was presented in two papers at a meeting of the Twentieth Century Club on Monday, at the home of Mrs. William Soper, 287 West Chestnut street. Mrs. Herman Schwenk, president, conducted the business meeting.

Relating old Indian tales and legends, Mrs. Joseph F. Deegan prepared the paper on Catskill Mountain Lore. She described the naming of towns, rock formations, varieties of trees, and state parks.

Mrs. S. Maxwell Taylor, in her paper on Australia, compared its size with that of the United States. She also discussed population, cities, climate, and the people and their occupations.

A report of the club's recent luncheon and meeting held in Katsbaan was given by Mrs. Schwenk.

Personal Notes

Students from this area who are enrolled at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., are Chester D. Mohr, 114 Spring street, sophomore in mechanical engineering; Myron Paikoff, 402 Albany avenue, graduate; and Ellianne L. Rider, 75 Lounsberry Place, senior in science.

Personnel Director Is Guest Speaker at First Dutch Club

Paul T. Vanness, personnel director of IBM's Poughkeepsie plant, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the First Dutch Church Men's Club in Bethany Hall Wednesday night.

Reviewing the history of the firm, Vanness pointed out that it began in 1911 with the merger of three other firms. Its first plant, in Endicott, now employs 8,500 persons. The second plant was established in Poughkeepsie in 1941 with a "couple hundred" employes and 40,000 square feet of floor space he said. That plant now employs 7,000 and has 1,232,000 square feet of floor space. All IBM electric typewriters and some of its accounting machine equipment are produced at Poughkeepsie. The firm also has a smaller plant at Washington, D. C., and one on the west coast.

President Fred Van Deusen announced that attendance at Wednesday's dinner meeting was 64, a record high for a regular meeting in recent years. Vanness was introduced by James T. Little, secretary of the club.

KHS Raises Curtain For Senior Play Tonight at 8:15

When the curtain rises tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the high school auditorium on the first performance of this year's Senior play, And Then Came Spring, the audience will be treated to three acts of swift moving action, combined with a number of amusing situations. The play, directed by Miss Madeleine Tarrant, is a three-act comedy by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes.

This year's cast of 17 students is one of the largest to be used in recent years. Those taking part in the performance are Joseph Gardner, David Schroder, James Colclough, Harold Miller, Glenn Edinger, Leon Van Dyke, Robert Eckert, Donald Kiwus, William Rogers, Marni Paley, Patricia Zimmerman, Fleurette Reon, Ellen O'Reilly, Toni McClellan, Nadya Spassenko, Lynda Sulko and Kathleen Davis.

Besides the cast whose names are soon familiar to the audience, a large number of students have back-stage duties whose performance is also vital to a smooth production. These not only include the stage crew but properties committee, make-up committee, prompters and ushers.

The stage crew who set up the scenery, arrange the set, and have charge of all lighting effects include Phil Mandel, Harold Monashefsky, Jack Hickey, Joseph Stein and William Glennon. Arrangements for properties are in charge of Sally Rose and Diane Johnston, while Mary Johnston and Shirley Boice are acting as prompters.

Connie Reppert, a KHS graduate in '52 who will be remembered by many for her fine portrayal of Joe in Little Women three years ago is in charge of make-up. Assisting her are a group of eight students. These include Joyce Yerry, Nan Shurter, Joan Buttlerie, Emma Jagger, Ruth Streifer, Elaine Macholt and Marylou Snyder.

Seal Sale Plans Are Completed

The Christmas Seal steering committee completed plans this week for the 1952 campaign.

It was reported by the chairman, James L. Rowe, that thousands of letters have been prepared by many volunteers of women's church groups, Girl Scouts, the Teen-Age Club and individuals. This mail has been made ready for the mailmen who will deliver them to all Ulster county residents on November 17. The Kingston Boys Club is delivering posters for display to the merchants of Kingston.

Through the cooperation of officials, a banner will be placed at the Broadway underpass asking citizens to help Fight Tuberculosis —Buy and Use Christmas Seals. Robert Peebles reported that Vincent R. Burns, manager of Montgomery Ward Store, would devote its window and furnishings Friday night, Nov. 14, for the Christmas Seal pageant. A loud speaker system will be provided by Reade's Kingston Theatres and a group from the Salvation Army will play Christmas carols from the balcony of Montgomery Ward. Little Connie Darling, dressed in sleepers with a candle ready for bed, will sell the first Christmas Seals to Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of the Ulster County TB Hospital. Almost an exact replica of the Christmas Seal candle and holder which Connie will use has been contributed by the Johnston Antique Shop.

Through the cooperation of the Kingston Board of Education, a huge double-barred cross and candle, replicas of the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale, will be erected by Modjeska Sign Studios and the Board of Public Works on the Kingston High School lawn. Windows have been donated for decoration during the Christmas Seal Sale by Burgevin's in Kingston, Plimley's in Saugerties, the Electric Company in Ellenville, in Woodstock and in other townships throughout the county.

Members serving with Rowe are Mrs. Ira Saxe, Herbert DeKay, Augustus P. Modjeska, Louis Netter, Robert Peebles and Howard St. John.

FAIRY-TALE GIFT FOR PRINCE—Britain's Prince Charles is just as interested as any other little boy in the old fairy stories, and Helda Lemka, above, of Hamburg, Germany, prepared a birthday gift for him that would delight any child. She fashioned a scene from Hansel and Gretel in gingerbread, for Prince Charles' fourth birthday, Nov. 14, and sent it to the young heir to the throne.

Calls It Serious Mistake

Editor, The Freeman,
Dear Sir:

In the interest of fair play, progressive planning for the future development of our city, and to call to the attention of our citizens the need for closer supervision or interest in the action of our legislative body, the Common Council, I respectfully ask that you publish this letter.

At the last meeting of the Common Council, a petition to re-zone certain properties on Albany Ave. beyond Roosevelt Ave to allow the construction of a most modern super-market, with a large parking area adjoining, was voted down by a vote of 7 to 6, the Alderman-at-large, Mr. Joseph Kelly, casting the deciding vote.

I believe a serious mistake has been made as far as the development of this business area is concerned since this section has long since ceased to be a residential area. I also believe that a great injustice has been done to the present owners, the purchaser, and to the other resident property owners who would be able to sell to business interests much more advantageously if this market had been allowed to locate there.

The property under consideration is not located in Roosevelt Park, but on Albany Ave. where there are many businesses now operating. Not long ago, this same Common Council approved a change of the former Emerick Bowling Alleys to an industrial zone against the opposition of over 90% of the property owners adjacent. This property is located directly across Albany Ave from the property in question. Many other changes in zoning from residential to business have been granted in this area. It is therefore quite apparent that rank discrimination has been made and little or no consideration has been given to the general welfare.

It would seem that the matter of primary importance to all the people of the city should be the tremendous increase in taxes from the development of business in the area. The Grand Union Company is planning on a $200,000 to $250,000 super-market which would have been a tremendous asset to the community. This would have meant a tax payment to the City of around $5,000 a year or a total of $100,000 over a period of 20 years. Add to this the tax increase from the many businesses that already have had the area in mind awaiting just this type of development and it becomes apparent what a tremendous decision Mr. Kelly made when he cast the seventh negative vote. He said at the time, "This is America and I will protect the taxpayers.' What taxpayers? Just those of Roosevelt Park or of the City at large? And even many of the residents of Roosevelt Park had no objection to this zoning change. And did Mr. Kelly mean to infer that all those in favor of the change were Un-American? Or did Mr. Kelly try a little so called Ward healing with a patriotic note thrown in, having in mind, perhaps, the city elections next year.

Mr. Fred Stang, representing a group of Roosevelt Park people, at the Council meeting, asked the councilmen to deny the change on the grounds that the lives of the children living on the back streets would be endangered by the tremendous increase in traffic on those back streets. Why there should be much of an increase on those back streets when there is 390 feet for entrance and egress on Albany avenue is beyond one's imagination. And, too, the children all over the city are not protected from traffic in the streets as some of the residents of Roosevelt Park feel their children are entitled to.

Mr. Stang also warned the Council that other businesses would follow from Albany avenue down into the Roosevelt Park area if this change were granted. Mr. Stang will no longer have to worry about the Council rezoning to business in Roosevelt Park, a strictly residential area, because, as shown by recent action on the Grand Union petition, it will not even re-zone a property to business which is already in a business area.

Apparently all the taxpayers of the city will have to attend all the Council meetings if their rights are to be protected from minority groups who can, by a bit of flowery oratory, deprive them of so large a sum of money from tax receipts, as has been done in this instance.

In conclusion, I want to call attention to the fact that the Zoning Committee of the Council, after much consultation and deliberation, recommended its approval of the change from residential to business with certain restrictions. I believe that Mayor Newkirk and other officials as well as members of the Zoning Board and City Planning Commission are all extremely interested in getting a better zoning law in force which can make such a farce as this unable of re-enactment in the future. What prompted Mr. Kelly to vote "No"?

Before signing, I should mention that I am the broker involved in the proposed transaction and I will be recompensed whether the courts overrule the Council's decision or not.

Very truly yours,
R. E. CRAFT.

Seven Hurt in Crash

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Seven women were injured today when a southbound Central Park West bus and a trailer-truck collided at 97th street. The women passengers were taken to Knickerbocker Hospital. Police said their injuries were diagnosed as of a minor nature. The bus was owned by the New York City Omnibus Corp., and was driven by Alfred Sunderland, 49, of 28-24 56th Place, Woodside, Queens.

Prominent Lawyer Dies

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Walter B. Caughlan, 72, assistant corporation counsel of New York city from 1913 to 1933 and head of the city's legislative bureau at Albany from 1926 to 1933, died yesterday. Caughlan's service at Albany covered the entire administration of the late Mayor James J. Walker.

Advises UN Clean Own House of Red Activities

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sen. Pat McCarran (D.-Nev.), calling a temporary halt to internal security subcommittee hearings, says the United Nations should "clean its own house of communism and subversive activities."

Several American citizens employed at the UN have been questioned by the subcommittee about possible Communist ties during four weeks of intermittent hearings.

McCarran, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee of which the Internal Security Subcommittee is a part, spoke to newsmen yesterday after an 80-minute subcommittee executive session.

No Way of Screening

"The UN was not set up as a propaganda agency for any ideology," McCarran said, adding:

"The UN brings its people from abroad with diplomatic immunity, hence there is no way for screening them. If, as and when they come here and engage in subversive activities against the United States, it is time that was stopped."

McCarran, said there probably would be no more hearings until after Christmas.

After the new congress convenes next year, he said, some of the subcommittee's members, including himself, "probably will be replaced."

Questioned in secrecy yesterday by the Senate group was Norman Corwin, UN film consultant on leave to perform similar work in Hollywood. Neither Corwin nor committee members would discuss the nature of the session.

Chemical Kills Underbrush

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP)—A vegetation-killing chemical spray is putting an end to guerrilla ambushes from the undergrowth along Malayan roads. Experiments in chemical spraying carried out by a fleet of five vehicles fitted with pumps and spray gear have done much to kill the underbrush, the federal legislative council was told.

Child Walks Through Bonfire on Dare

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—A playmate's dare sent 3-year-old Joseph Sena walking through a bonfire and emerging as a human torch.

The youngster was playing yesterday with chums near his home in the Red Hook section of Brooklyn when he calmly toddled into and through the blaze.

Charles La Rocco, 40, a city-employed bus driver, saw what had happened and dashed over to the boy. La Rocco beat out the flames with his hands, then wrapped Joseph in blankets and drove him to a hospital.

Today Joseph was described as in fair condition by a hospital spokesman.

When Joseph's mother asked him why he walked into the fire, the child said a boy dared him to and "I did and I fell down in it."

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, Nov. 12—Miss Frances DuBois, guidance director at Ellenville High School, attended the 26th annual convention of the New York State Association of Deans and guidance personnel at the Mark Twain Hotel in Elmira from Oct. 30 to Nov. 1.

Guy Davenport of this village has sold his Fort William Henry Hotel property at Lake George to a corporation which will develop the site, scene of one of the greatest massacres during the French and Indian War, as an historic museum. Harold Gerir Veeder, an Albany real estate broker, heads the group which has purchased the property and which plans to develop the 19-acre site. The hotel also will be operated by the corporation. While the purchase price was not disclosed, Mr. Veeder said the estimated cost of developing the Fort William Henry Museum and surrounding area would run between $750,000 and $1,000,000. His group, he said, included business men from the Albany and Lake George areas. Acreage for reconstruction of the early fort will be cleared during the winter. Construction will start in the spring. The rebuilding will adhere strictly to the historical details of Fort William Henry, in March 1757 successfully withstood the attack of 1600 French and Indians, but by August 9 of the same year its garrison was starved out. The French general, Montcalm, promised "safe conduct to the English, but the French were unable to restrain their Indian allies and many of the defenders were killed. Gen. Montcalm considered it one of the most disgraceful moments in warfare. Subsequently the fort was obliterated and today all that remains are the depressions and general outline — a square with traditional diamond shaped protuberances jutting from each corner. Mr. Davenport also owns and operates the Hotel Windsor at Elizabethtown.

The annual Armistice Day church service of the Cook-Taylor American Legion Post was held at the Ellenville Dutch Reformed Church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Krom have announced the engagement of their daughter, Loretta Frances, to Thomas Thornton, of Syracuse. The wedding will take place at the Dutch Reformed Church Nov. 29.

Mrs. Dorothy V. Hocmer was elected president of the Teachers Association of the Third Supervisory District of Ulster county at a meeting held at the Kerhonkson High School Thursday night. Mr. Croswell Sheely, retiring president, presided. Other officers elected were Miss Helen Larsen, vice-president; Miss Constance Blawis, secretary; Miss Ida Bedesky was reelected treasurer. B. Beninoti, of Kerhonkson High School, was elected delegate and Miss Abigail Stokes, alternate to the House of Delegates of the New York State Teachers Association. Mr. Beninoti and Morris Kaufman, who was elected last year as a delegate for two years, will attend the meeting of the House of Delegates at Buffalo, the week of Nov. 24. Mr. Kaufman, who attended a meeting of delegates at the Hotel New Yorker Oct. 18, gave a report of that meeting. Mrs. Hocmer appointed Vincent Gillan chairman of the legislative committee and Mrs. Harold E. Rippert, chairman of the social committee. Miss Blawis, Miss Stokes and Mrs. Frank Dietsch will act as a membership committee. The next meeting of the District Teachers Association will be held at the Ellenville High School Thursday night, Dec. 4, at which time reports of the delegates will be given.

The Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from this village and Kerhonkson distributed 2,000 Liberty Bell reminders for residents of those areas to vote in the general election Nov. 4. Taking part in the Rondout Valley District project were members of Troop and Pack 27, Troop and Pack 28 and Troop 22. Signed by the individual Scout or Cub delivering the reminder, the Liberty Bells urged: "Vote as you think. Think when you vote Tuesday, Nov. 4. Today's youth counts on you. Use your freedom to vote." The project was sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America and Freedom's Foundation, Inc.

Indian relics of New York state, collected by Mrs. Sidney D. Delaney are now on display in the Ellenville Public Library where they will remain through Dec. 5. Many of the articles exhibited were found near the local scene of the Fantinekill Massacre on Young's Flats in the vicinity of Wawarsing.

Two additions to the staff of the Ulster County Trans-Video Corporation were announced this week. They are A. Sarr Phelps, who will be in charge of all construction and who will serve as pole, line and wire consultant; and Harry Greenberg, who was elected to the board of directors and who will be in charge of the engineering. Mr. Phelps is superintendent of Ellenville Electric Company and Mrs. Greenberg is the chief engineer of the Channel Master Corporation.

James Beckley of the Spring Glen road has signed a contract to purchase the greenhouse property of Howard Galloway on the Napanoch Road.

David Morris and Rose Horowitz have purchased the estate of the late Dr. Alice Divine, consisting of two dwellings, a garage and property that runs from Canal to Center street, near Church street.

Ellenville police reported one of the quietest Halloweens in recent years, while State Police indicated that the only trouble they had that night was in the vicinity of Accord. Police Chief Richard A. Porter explained that while Halloweens celebrators were boisterous the evening was quiet in the sense that there was no malicious mischief reported. He said the night before Halloween, however, somebody put a large slash in the awning at Widelitz's Men's Shop. Ellenville State Police said their only call was in Accord where roads in that vicinity were barricaded by snow fences and felling of trees. Trees were dropped across the Foordmore and Granite roads.

The Dutch Guild of the Ellenville Reformed Dutch Church will hold a dessert meeting next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Vernon Thornton, Spring Glen. Hostesses will be Mrs. Vernon Thornton and Mrs. William Sevcring.

Broil Tuna Chunks for Dinner

DON'T SPARE THE FISH on this inviting platter of almond-sprinkled broccoli flanked by large portions of broiled tuna.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Tuna is plentiful now and it's reasonably priced. You'll be surprised what a good dinner dish it makes when large, man-sized hunks are broiled and served with buttered broccoli sprinkled with chopped almonds.

Broiled Tuna and Broccoli With Shredded Almonds
(4 servings)

One-quarter cup butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons shredded blanched almonds, 1 10-ounce package frozen broccoli, 2 7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna, salt and pepper, ½ teaspoon paprika.

In a small saucepan, melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add lemon juice. Worcestershire sauce, ⅛ teaspoon salt and almonds; mix well. Keep sauce warm over hot water.

Cook broccoli according to directions on package. Meanwhile, drain oil from tuna and reserve. Sprinkle tuna with salt and pepper; dust with paprika. Brush tuna with some oil drained from can. Place on broiler pan and broil 3 inches from source of heat about 8 minutes, brushing frequently with remaining tuna oil.

Arrange cooked broccoli in center of heated platter and surround with broiled tuna which has been broken into large pieces. Pour cream sauce with almonds over all. Serve immediately.

Tuna Creole
(Makes 6 servings)

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/3 cup chopped onions, 1 green pepper, diced, 1 1/3 cups canned tomatoes, ½ cup water, 1 1-pound eggplant, or 1 No. 2 can okra, 1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, paprika.

In a skillet, melt butter or margarine over low heat; add onions and green pepper and saute 5 minutes. Add tomatoes and water; bring to a boil. Cut unpeeled egg plant into ½-inch cubes. If okra is used, drain off liquid.

In a 2-quart casserole, combine eggplant or okra tomato mixture, undrained tuna which has been broken into large pieces, parsley and salt. Sprinkle with paprika. Cover and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25-30 minutes. Serve piping hot.

Don't Hide Your Anger From Children by Being 'Noble'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Esther was just 10 when her father told her mother that he wanted a divorce to marry someone else.

This news was a great shock to Esther's mother. She gave her husband his divorce—but was furiously angry at having to do it. Unfortunately, this anger didn't match the role of gentle victim suggested to her by her sympathetic family and friends. So this angry emotion expressed itself in heart palpitations and much talk of poor Esther's "loss."

Now Esther is herself a mother. She is a very anxious one. Let Jimmy get a sniffle—and she prepares for high fever. Let an unexpected bill come in—and she at once assumes that she's been overcharged. Let her husband suggest new slip covers—and she envisions a disaster that will require the money.

Loss so pervades Esther's expectations for herself that she can't be out of the house 10 minutes without beginning to wonder if she locked the back door securely.

When Esther recounts her troubles to her mother, her mother is deeply sympathetic. If her daughter doesn't call to report what has gone wrong every day, she telephones to find out herself.

Esther's mother, of course, has never recovered from her anger. Though it is unpleasant to have to say, I must suggest that this unaccepted anger drives Esther's mother to take great satisfaction in her daughter's troubles, both real and imaginery. They enable her to think, "Esther's troubles are her father's fault. She would have had a very different life if Harry had not rejected me and chosen someone else."

We shouldn't be shocked at this feeling in Esther's mother. Unsuspected anger is no respecter of persons. It can make you and me take satisfaction in the troubles of those we even profess to love when those troubles give us the chance to put heavier condemnation on the one who has angered us.

Divorced mothers attract sympathy as jam attracts flies. In their confused and impressionable state, they tend to encourage pity, instead of resisting it. They should be very wary of pity's suggestions that they are bearing up nobly when they are just as mad as they can be.

For divorce is the result of a breakdown in the self-revelations of two people, one to the other. If we don't want any more breakdowns in our vital relationships, we'd better tell the children all we can find out about ourselves. If we are angry, they should be told and warned that we are temporarily out of order.

This is acting on the truth contained in a statement by psychoanalyst Erich Fromm: "The individual's greatest strength is built - - - on transparence to himself. 'Know thyself' is one of the fundamental commands that aim at human strength and happiness."

Judge Takes Objection

Salt Lake City, Nov. 13 (AP)—U. S. District Judge Willis W. Ritter started a one-man noise abatement campaign yesterday to halt a racket in a federal building mail room which he said sounded "like a bowling alley." To enforce his desire for quiet, the the judge had Postmaster David R. Trevithick and 25 postal employes brought into court. To Trevithick he gave a lecture. Supervisor Francis Newman got a $100 fine, suspended, and 24 other workers were cited for contempt. Handling of mail was held up for an hour.

Culloton Predicts Strong Comeback for Baseball in Kingston

Feels Young League Players Will Help Better Game Soon

City Loop Banquet Fetes Wiltwycks as Champs

There is too much general enthusiasm for baseball among the American people to conceive a complete breakdown of the game, Bernard A. "Bud" Culloton told 125 persons at last night's City Baseball League banquet at the Barn.

The banquet climaxed the 1952 season in Kingston and feted members of the Wiltwyck Motors squad for winning the league championship.

Among the speakers were District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, Dick McCarthy and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. League president Ed Murphy welcomed the group and Charles J. Tiano, the toastmaster, introduced a number of local baseball personalities.

The Rev. James V. Keating of St. Joseph's delivered the invocation and the Rev. Frank J. Gollnick of the Trinity Lutheran Church gave the benediction.

Predicting that local baseball was presently mired in the lower depths of an adverse cycle, Culloton said the cycle would run its course in a couple of years and baseball would make a strong comeback.

Mayor Shares Views

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who congratulated the City Baseball League for completing another season, shared Culloton's views and said he thought the present slump in baseball interest would dissipate in the near future.

The former Kingston Colonial pitching star pointed out that from 1922 to 1924 baseball was a very active and profitable sport in the entire mid-Hudson area.

"But by the 1926-27-28 period, a new trend was apparent," Culloton pointed out. "The automobile, previously a luxury item, came into general prominence and use and many people who normally had nothing to do on Sunday afternoon or of an evening began to go touring. Baseball suffered."

Baseball's next and probably greatest cycle did not occur until the time the arclights were installed at municipal stadium in the late 1930s. Through 1940-41-42, the Kingston Recreations were a fabulous drawing card.

"I have no doubt that when highways become overcrowded and the novelty of television wears off baseball will make a comeback," Culloton went on. "It is still the most generally accepted American sports."

"The Little League already has graduated two classes," he added, "and these youngsters together with those that come out of the Fraternal Youth League will pump new blood into the veins of local baseball. The enthusiasm of the young players in both leagues is tremendous and, they will be seeking an outlet to continue their careers. These 'feeders' have been missing in the past but they will make their presence felt in the future."

Warn of TV Threat

Dick McCarthy, who delivered a resounding blast against the inroads of TV at last year's banquet, spoke briefly on the same subject. In taking a stand directly opposite Culloton's, the popular broadcaster again painted TV as a monster that would eventually devour all of the lower echelons of minor league ball.

Tony Williams, manager of the Wiltwyck Motor squad, a predominantly Highland group, accepted the President's Trophy donated by President Ed Murphy and the official pennant and shoulder patches awarded to Warren Smith.

Among the personalities introduced by the toastmaster were Warren Smith and Charles J. Turck, former league presidents; Al Flanagan, Joe Hoffman, Paul J. Freer, ex-secretary; Bob Graves, president of the Town of Esopus Little League; Charlie Neff, physical director at Wallkill Central School, and Myron Goldman, who was prominently identified with the organized baseball movement in Kingston.

Bruhn Regales Crowd

District Attorney Bruhn regaled the audience with another of his inimitable poems about personalities in the league.

President Murphy presented the league managers—Joe Hoffman, Tony Williams, Pucker Davis, John Schatzel and George Magley and presented various individual awards. The umpires—Bob Tierney, Francis Stauble and Bud Zoller were also introduced.

Harvie Ward, Jr., British Amateur golf champion, was a Southern Conference titleholder for the University of North Carolina.

Village Rest, Accord Score Y League Wins

DuBois, McClosky High With 24, 23 Points

The Village Rest and Accord Chevies registered victories in Wednesday night's basketball double-header in the YMCA "B" Division.

Village Rest of Port Ewen eked out a 65 to 63 division over the Newkirk Aces while the Chevies won handily over Central Lunch, 72 to 36.

Jim Ferraro sparked the Village Rest quintet with 17 points while V. Van Bramer and Jack Beaver dropped in 12 and 11 points respectively.

DuBois, McClosky Hot

Despite the defeat, the Aces came through with the two top scorers of the night with Bill DuBois picking up 24 points and Phil McClosky contributing 23.

The Aces held a one point edge, 15 to 14 in the first quarter only to have the Port Ewen squad take the lead at half time, 30-28. Both clubs were tied 50-all at the bell ending the third canto. Village Rest hit 15 points while the Aces piled up 13 in the final quarter.

Ingham Scores 19

Bob Ingham led the Accord Chevies in their easy victory by scoring 19 points. Jack Sheeley followed with 17 while Bernie Smith and Milford Ebert chipped in with 13 and 12 for the winners. Tom Rundle and Leo Wells scored 12 and 11 respectively for Central Lunch.

Accord held a 27 to 22 lead at the half but pulled away out in front with big scores of 20 and 25 in the final two periods. The Lunchmen were held to 14 points in the final half, seven coming in each quarter.

BACK OF THE WEEK

Homer Smith, Princeton's old-fashioned power-plunging fullback, was named Associated Press Back of the Week, Nov. 12. He won the honor for his ability to do the primary thing with a football—run with it. In the game against Harvard, Nov. 8, Smith ripped through the Crimson line for four touchdowns and 273 yards, the greatest running performance by a major college back this season.

Big Seven Rules Out Bowl Games; Pasadena Is Set

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The football bowl pickings are getting slimmer and slimmer as the deadline nears for selection of contestants in the post-season gridiron classics.

Another conference bowed out of the picture officially last night when the faculty committee of the Big Seven decided to abide by the circuit's present rule which prohibits any post-season competition.

That action puts a quietus on reports that Oklahoma and possibly some other members of the conference would seek permission to play on New Year's Day. Once beaten Oklahoma had been mentioned as a possible participant in the Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowls.

As the situation now stands only the Rose Bowl is definitely set. The Pacific Coast Conference winner, probably Southern California or UCLA, will oppose the Big Ten champion.

Gators Eye Orange Bid

The Cotton Bowl is sure of the Southwest Conference titleholder as the host team. Right now Texas is in line for that honor. Georgia Tech, powerhouse of the Southeastern League has accepted an invitation to play in the Sugar Bowl.

If Florida gets past Tennessee Saturday, then the Gators can look for an Orange Bowl bid. They have lost to Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech but only by a combined margin of 10 points. The Vols of Tennessee, with a 6-1 record, also have eyes on one of the major bowls.

Mississippi, another member of the Southeastern Conference, likewise is looking bowlward but the Rebels have a Saturday engagement with powerful Maryland. The Terrapins themselves would like very much to travel to the sunny climes Jan. 1 but they are on probation for playing in the Sugar Bowl last New Year's Day and are not likely to risk additional punishment by the Southern Conference.

Pickings Limited

Even the pickings among the independents are not plentiful.

Without attempting to list them in order of possible preference the leading eligibles include Pittsburgh, Syracuse and Holy Cross and possibly Villanova—all eastern outfits.

Pittsburgh has defeats by Oklahoma and West Virginia. Syracuse has dropped two, one to Bolling Feld and the other to No. 1 ranked Michigan State. Holy Cross has lost only to Syracuse but has not played an impressive schedule. Villanova definitely was in the running until smothered 42-6 last week by Tulsa.

PRO FOOTBALL TEAM TURNED BACK TO LEAGUE

Heads of the Dallas Texans, National Professional Football League entry, prepare a telegram in Dallas to the league office as they turned the club back to the league. Left to right are Jim Phelan, head coach; Giles Miller, president, and Al Ennis, business manager. Backers of the pro club said they are unable to finance the Texans, who have been drawing poor crowds and not winning games. Miller said the club will finish its schedule but that it apparently will be a road club with its expenses paid by the league. The team has lost about $250,000 in its first season. (AP Wirephoto)

NCAA Announces New Plans for Tourneys

Kansas City, Nov. 13 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association today announced plans to increase the number of teams for its basketball tournament and at the same time shorten the season and reduce post-season competition.

The announcement came jointly from Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, and Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, University of Kansas athletic director and chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee.

The plans are dependent upon any recommendations which might come from the NCAA extra events committee, now completing a survey of post-season competition, and subject to any actions which might be taken at the associations' annual convention in Washington, D. C., Jan. 8-10.

The NCAA, according to the announcement today, would better the administration and conduct of its tournament through the following devices:

"1. Advance the date of the tournament by one week. Regional games for 1953 would be held March 13-14 and the finals March 17-18.

"2. Limit eligibility for the NCAA tournament each year to teams which compete in no other tournament after the close of their regularly scheduled playing season.

"3. Increase the number of conferences whose champions will automatically qualify for the tournament. This will have the direct effect of strengthening conference playing leagues and developing more closely-knit and better-administered conferences.

"4.  Expand the tournament bracket to enable more member institutions to qualify for the tournament."

Michigan State Picked to Beat Irish in Saturday's Big Duel

Maryland, Tech Also Favored

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Football selections made on Nov. 13 simply can not be any better or any worse than those made on Oct. 31. So here comes this week's picks:

Michigan State over Notre Dame: A duel that compares with last week's Notre Dame-Oklahoma affair but this time the Irish appear doomed. Michigan State is rated the country's best and statistics prove it has the most effective attack.

Maryland over Mississippi: A pair of unbeaten Goliaths although Ole Miss has been tied twice. The Mississippians will work a minor miracle if they get a tie against Jack Scarbath & Co.

Georgia Tech over Alabama: Your Saturday afternoon TV attraction. Tech's Turner and Teas are Dixie's modern Blanchard and Davis, of Army's wartime fame. Alabama was the last team to spill Tech, back in November of 1950.

Oklahoma over Missouri: The Sooners to take their anger on Missouri for last Saturday's defeat by Notre Dame.

Southern California over Washington: Washington has stolen quietly into the cost conference title race but its exit will be much more noisy even though Don Heinrich's passes will annoy the Trojans.

Tennessee Over Florida: The 'Gators have primed for this one since the season started but the odds are against them. Tennessee apparently headed for the Cotton Bowl.

Surprise Due for Yale

Texas Over Texas Christian: Texas has in T. Jones the conference's best passer, in Dick Ochoa the loop's best ground-gainer, in Gib Dawson the leading scorer and in Tom Stolhandske the leading pass receiver. That's too much for TCU.

Michigan Over Purdue: A close one. Purdue never has beaten Michigan at Ann Arbor and here's a shaky vote the jinx will hold.

Syracuse Over Colgate: Syracuse is bowl hungry.

Princeton Over Yale: Yale is the surprise team of the east but this time it gets the surprise.

Duke Over Wake Forest: Duke to rebound after a pair of stinging rebukes.

Finishing the others:

Friday Night

George Washington over Davidson, Tulsa over Detroit.

Saturday

Penn over Army, Navy over Columbia, Connecticut over Rhode Island, Dartmouth over Cornell, Fordham over Temple, Harvard over Brown, Delaware over Lafayette, Boston University over New York University, Pittsburgh over North Carolina State, Penn State over Rutgers, Amherst over Williams, Trinity over Wesleyan, Boston College over Xavier.

Clair Bee, Ex-LIU Coach, Is Named To Manage Baltimore Bullets of NBA

Baltimore, Nov. 13 (AP)—Clair Bee, former Long Island University basketball coach who has been at the helm of three national championship teams in his 21 years of college coaching, took over the Baltimore Bullets today.

Bee will arrive here on the heels of Baltimore's first National Basketball Association victory. The hapless Bullets finally found the net last night after three wobbly starts and defeated previously unbeaten Milwaukee, 107-90.

Bee succeeds Chick Reiser whose release was announced yesterday by general manager Bob Elmer.

Long Island discontinued basketball a year ago after some of the schools' players became involved in bribery cases with gamblers. The widely known college mentor remained at the university as comptroller until last summer.

Had Impressive Record

The bullets went into action against Milwaukee last night with Ed Hargaden taking over for a one-night stand. He is coach of the local Loyola High School basketball, football and track teams.

Bee and Elmer are scheduled to meet today in New York, and immediately afterward Bee will come to Baltimore to begin his duties.

Bee, who becomes the fourth Bullet coach in two seasons, piled up an impressive record at LIU. His 1939 and 1941 teams won the National Invitational tourney. His 1936 team was unbeaten and LIU had a string of 44 undefeated games at that time. From 1932, when he played for the university, until 1951, LIU won 86 per cent of its games.

The 52-year-old Roscoe, N. Y. man has an .880 winning percentage in his years of coaching.

Bee's enthusiasm for the game carries over into the writing field where he has authored 26 books on sports techniques and juvenile fiction.

NO STAG AFFAIR

Mrs. Stella Stagg, 77-year-old wife of Susquehanna coaching veteran Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr., is no idle member of the famous football family. She makes copious notes and diagrams of plays while sitting in the stands at the Nov. 8 Susquehanna-Wagner game in New York. Mrs. Stagg, an old hand at this scouting business, sits in with her husband and son on coaching councils.

Adirondack Deer Season Extended

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Deer hunting will be legal in the Adirondacks through Dec. 5.

Perry B. Duryea, state conservation commissioner, today extended the season from the regular Nov. 30 closing date in the Adirondacks and adjacent counties where it opened Oct. 25, in order to make up for time lost during the recent fire emergency ban.

Grouse seasons were extended as follows (hunting legal through final date):

In the Adirondacks and adjacent counties, from the regular closing of Nov. 23 to Nov. 28; in the Catskills and eastern counties, from Dec. 19 closing to Dec. 24; in central and western counties, from Dec. 10 closing to Dec. 15.

Other Extensions

The squirrel season closing was extended from Nov. 21 to Nov. 26 throughout the state, except in Nassau and Suffolk counties, where no closing date was set.

The raccoon season was extended through Feb. 5 in the zone north of the Oswego and Oneida rivers, Oneida Lake, the Barge Canal and the main tracks of the New York Central and Boston and Albany railroads from Rome to the Massachusetts state line. South of this line, the season will run through Feb. 20.

The cottontail rabbit season was not extended.

Cloyce Box, end for the Detroit Lions in the NFL, caught four touchdown passes against Baltimore in 1950 to establish the Lions' record for most scores in a single game.

In their first four games this season the University of Florida grid team recovered 12 of its opponents 17 fumbles.

Boe McChesney, New York football Giants end, works in an aircraft factory in New York during the off-season.

Ocean Drive, winner of the 1949 Hibiscus at Hialeah, is now a stable pony for Fred W. Hooper's string.

State Deer Season Opens Saturday

Catskill area hunters are poised for the annual deer slaying blitz that officially opens Saturday at 7 a. m. and closes Sunday, Nov. 30, at 5 p. m.

During the state's big game hunting season it is expected that about 400,000 licenses will be issued. This means the heaviest hunting pressure in history.

But State Conservation Department officials point out that game is plentiful.

Showers, snowstorms and reduced temperatures have eliminated the critical fire hazard in most of the state and Governor Dewey's reopening of the state forests was cheered by the vast army of hunters.

Bucks only should be taken with horns 3 inches or over in length.

In Ulster, Orange, Sullivan, Greene, Delaware, Rensselaer and Columbia counties, rifles, shotguns and long bows are legal weapons.

Westchester county with a full month of buck or doe season can use only the long bow.

Bears may be taken in Ulster and Sullivan counties through Dec. 15.

Doe Season Set

There will be a doe season in 19 counties Friday, Nov. 28 to Saturday, Nov. 29. The lower counties of the Catskill area are NOT included.

Regardless of how, when or where, but ONE deer can be legally taken by any one hunter during the entire season.

The hides of deer are valuable. They can be tanned and made into gloves, vests or coats. The whole tanned skin makes a nice covering for a table. Tanneries will gladly purchase them or possibly some other hunter would appreciate the hide.

LONG LIVE THE HUNTER, because about 300 were killed and about 2,000 wounded last year.

Hand-Casting Sharpens Your Skill

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

The other day I watched a fellow make a 90-foot cast without a rod. He used nothing more than an ordinary double-tapered fly line and his bare hands to make the cast. In fact, he made a half-dozen casts by switching the line back and forth, and every one of them was in "classic" form.

Now I don't know what the world's record is for hand-casting but Ellis Newman of Turnwood laid out a measured 96 feet of fly line.

Not only is his speed terrific, but his movements are so perfectly coordinated that he can even change hands in the middle of a cast.

Hand-casting is a stunt. It wouldn't be much fun to fish without a rod. However, most tournament casters can and do hand-cast to sharpen their timing and build up their muscles.

I doubt if anybody has ever achieved the perfection of our Catskill wizard, but maybe it's about time we looked into rodless casting from a practical standpoint. Ellis has been teaching fly casting for several years now, and he tells me that when one of his pupils can toss off 30 feet by hand—the added ingredient of a rod is just so much gravy.

A fly rod is a lever that sets the line in motion. It is not a spring, and the action of its flexing and bending doesn't add one inch to a cast. The rod makes casting easier as it acts somewhat like an extension of your arm by magnifying your wrist speed.

I've been saying this for a number of years now, but it takes talent like Ellis' to prove it. He just drops his reel on the lawn, strips off all his line, and proceeds to bang out casts with his strong right arm. His left hand feeds "shooting" line to the right while he makes side casts, overhead, right-curve, and left-curve casts.

When Ellis is demonstrating he usually starts by casting with one fly rod in each hand. Then he removes the butt sections and casts with just the tips. Finally, he removes the tips and casts barehanded.

Last summer I fished the Upper Beaverkill with the steely-armed Newman, and just to make fishing a little tougher he insisted that we use nothing but our rod tips. Ellis scotch-taped my reel on a 4-foot glass "rod" and built up a workable reel seat from string and more scotch tape.

After all, it was his stream and I was a guest. For a while it looked as if your reporter was on a duffer's holiday. Trout were jumping all over the place, but I was completely fouled up. I took an hour to get thinggs working right, and then, by golly, I caught six trout!

I've done quite a bit of tip-fishing since, and I'm convinced that it has smoothed all the bumps out of my timing. With a short lever you have to apply power just right, putting exactly enough emphasis on the wrist snap when making a back cast and just enough snap in the forward cast to enroll your line in the air.

Might be a good idea to go out on the front lawn and try a few casts. If there's snow on the ground, so much the better.

Harmony Is Evident As PGA Ends Parley

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association of America has ended its annual convention in apparent harmony.

There was a minimum of friction yesterday when the PGA rejected by a 46-7 vote, a proposal to change the pattern of play of its national tournament, to be held in 1953 at Birmingham, Mich., July 1-7. A spokesman previously had said this would be a tough obstacle. Behind the scene lobbying apparently was effective.

The proposal would change the meet to four days of medal play with the 15 best scorers, plus the defending champion, then entering three days of match play for the title.

Delegates, consisting mainly of club pros, killed the proposal for the second straight year. This keeps the meet the same as it has been for 36 years—strictly match play after two days of qualifying to determine a 64-man field.

Rivera Gets Break In Frick's Ruling; Must Toe the Line

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick used the velvet fist treatment in placing on indefinite probation Jim Rivera, Chicago White Sox star rookie, whom he termed "guilty of a certain type of moral delinquency."

Baseball's boss could have banished the 29-year-old New York born Puerto Rican from the game. Instead he warned the speedy outfielder to "toe the line." Otherwise he will be barred.

"I hope he realizes that hereafter we're not going to wait until he gets to court," the commissioner said yesterday in announcing his decision.

Rivera was exonerated by the Cook county (Ill.) grand jury on a rape charge last month.

Frick declared "the commissioner cannot place himself in the position of going over the heads of an American grand jury. At the same time, the commissioner recognizes, as does the Chicago American League club, that they have an obligation to the public to maintain the highest possible standards of morality among all men who are connected with the game.

Club Held Responsible

"It is obvious that Mr. Rivera has been guilty of a certain type of moral delinquency."

The Chicago club will be held responsible for Rivera's actions on and off the field and will have to submit a report to Frick's office if the controversial outfielder misbehaves in any way.

The commissioner also prohibits the Chicago club from transferring the player's contract for a period of one year. The only way the White Sox can dispose of him is by voluntary retirement or suspension.

Rivera was summoned Oct. 20 to the commissioner's office where Frick discussed the case and reviewed the player's previous entanglements.

The White Sox player served five years on a rape charge while he was serving in the army. Last Sept. 28 he was charged with raping a 22-year-old married woman in Chicago. Rivera admitted being intimate with the woman but denied using force.

DA Cops Race

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—District Attorney came from far back of the pace in the stretch for a nose triumph over the favored Direct Vic in the feature event at Yonkers Raceway last night. He paid $10.20, $4.50 and $3.70. Power Chief was a half length back in third place. In a mile timed in 2:08.3, Direct Vic took early command and held the lead until a few strides from the wire. Stanley Tweedie rated District Attorney well back of the pace until the pack hit the stretch turn.

The University of Florida grid team intercepted 13 of 87 opposing passes in their first four games. Defensive halfback Tommy Ives led the way with four interceptions.

Native Dancer, unbeaten 2-year-old turf champion, of 1952, will be rested until next spring.

Veeck Says Official 'Used' Mickey Mantle

Kirksville, Mo., Nov. 13 (AP)—Bill Veeck, owner of the St. Louis Browns baseball club, sharply criticized Missouri congressman yesterday for bringing up the draft status of Mickey Mantle, New York Yankee star outfielder.

Veeck declared that it was a "cheap way of making headlines. Mantle is ready to serve his country whenever called just as any other patriotic young citizen."

Rep. Thomas P. Curtis (R.-Mo.) said Tuesday he wanted an investigation to determine the "consistency" of the army's draft methods. He listed two cases in which he said the army had accepted men with serious physical deficiencies.

The congressman added that he was not criticizing Mantle personally. The Yankee outfielder was rejected because of a chronic knee injury.

Veeck was here for a luncheon engagement.

Bill Heiss, head football and baseball coach at Colorado College, played end on the 1947 Illinois Rose Bowl team.

Henry A. Brown, varsity wrestling and golf coach at Grinnell College, is also the Dean of Men.

Butter Substitute

The development of margarine is credited to a French chemist, Mege Mouries, who won the prize offered by Napoleon III for the creation of a product which would increase consumption by the French people of fats and oils. In 1874 it was introduced into the United States as "oleomargarine," a name derived from what was then its principal ingredient, beef fat. The original product neither looked nor tasted like the margarine we know today, made from refined vegetable oils and milk, and richly fortified with Vitamin A.

Postal Slogans

Berlin, Nov. 13 (AP)—Post office slogan writers joined the East-West duel in Berlin today. Letters from the Communist East bore this stamp on the envelopes: "Learn from the Soviet people and the great Stalin how to build socialism." The West Berlin postoffice put its own stamp directly beneath: "And what has resulted from it."

Moscow Entertains

Gets 150 Years

Lawrenceville, Ill., Nov. 13 (AP)—An unemployed insurance salesman was sentenced to 150 years in prison yesterday after pleading guilty to the slaying of his former sweetheart in a Lawrenceville High School class room. A "blasted romance" was the only explanation offered by Charles Petrach, 25, of Garry, Ind., for fatally shooting Miss Georgine Lyon, 25, high school librarian, last Sept. 3. In imposing sentence, Circuit Judge Ben W. Eovaldi stipulated that Petrach should spend every Sept. 3 in solitary confinement. Petrach was scheduled to go on trial yesterday on his original plea of innocence. But he changed his plea to guilty on advice of court-appointed counsel.

WALLKILL NEWS

Wallkill, Nov. 13—The Wallkill Footlight Club play, John Loves Mary, will be presented at the Wallkill School Auditorium, Saturday, Nov. 22, at 8:15 p. m.

The play is for the benefit of the Wallkill Recreation Committee to help defray expenses of the swimming program and other activities. Representatives from various organizations, including the Women's Club, Knights of Pythias, Altar Society of St. Benedict's Church, Civic Committee, Legion auxiliary, firemen and Wallkill Teachers Society are working in cooperation with the recreation committee to make the play a success.

A booster list is being compiled for the program and any interested persons, organizations or businessmen who desire to become boosters may give their donations to the committee, which includes Joseph Doolittle, George Vogel and John Gardiner.

The director of the play will be Mrs. James B. Crowell, well-known in the Wallkill area. Fred C. Terwilliger is the producer.

The cast of the play will include some familiar faces and several newcomers to the Footlight Club. Marion Doolittle, last seen in The Curious Savage, will be seen in the part of Mary McKinley, the girl at home waiting for her GI to come back from England.

Jim Crowell, recently seen in The Curious Savage, will take the part of John the soldier who finds himself with an extra wife on his hands.

Jack Holmes, a new member of the Footlight Club, will be seen as Fred Taylor, an ex-GI, who adds to John's difficulties in love and marriage.

Two others being seen for the first time on the Wallkill stage will be Jack Schmeiser and Mrs. Claire Wickner in the parts of Senator and Mrs. McKinley. The remainder of the cast includes Harold Titus in his first acting role for the Footlight Club and Lurene Freer, Leonard Imquist, Joan Keator and George Vogel, all of whom have been seen in previous productions.

The first fall meeting of the Wallkill Parents Club of Wallkill Central School District was held Thursday, Nov. 4, at 8 p. m. in the school library. Parents, teachers and friends filled the hall to capacity. The program, centering around books, was under the supervision of Mrs. George Wildrick and Mrs. Mary VandeMark.

Mrs. Leonard Gunsch, president of the club introduced each room mother who in turn introduced with a short biographical sketch the teacher of her room. John McElhenny, elementary supervisor, introduced each high school teacher.

Miss Helen Lyons, Wallkill school librarian, was the speaker, her topic Old Friends and New Faces. Her speech emphasized the book's contribution to enjoyment, education and self improvement in both children's and adult literature.

Mrs. Fred C. Terwilliger was social chairman assisted by her committee of Mrs. Elmer Van Wyck, Mrs. Ira Wickner and Mrs. Edmund Cooper.

It was announced that the next regular meeting would be held Thursday, Dec. 4, at 8 p. m.

The regular meeting of the auxiliary of Rose-Sheeley Post 1034 was held at the Legion rooms Monday evening, Nov. 10.

Mrs. Edward Lown, rehabilitation chairman for the unit, has announced that the ladies will visit Ward E3 at Castle Point Veterans Hospital Nov. 18. Cars will leave the Legion rooms at 2 p. m. All those wishing to contribute cookies are asked to have them at the rooms at that time.

The auxiliary is also contributing to the gift shop of the hospital. In the gift shop, presents are made available to veterans for Christmas gifts to their families. Gifts may be for men, women or children and should be at least $1 in value. Packages should not be wrapped but gift wrappings should be included in the box. Contributors are asked to leave all gifts with Mrs. Lown or any auxiliary member before Dec. 1.

A card party for the rehabilitation fund will be held in the Legion rooms December 3. The committee includes Mrs. Chauncey McLean, Mrs. George Flockheart, Mrs. Everett Cameron and Mrs. John Almquist.

A sum of $15 was donated to the Red Cross high seas Christmas gift project, whereby men embarking for overseas duties with the armed forces will receive a Christmas gift.

Rev. Richard Hine will be the officiating pastor at the morning worship services at 11 a. m. Sunday at the Wallkill Reformed Church. ## New York Pupils Tour Ulster, City

A busload of New York eight-graders visited industrial and historic points of interest in this vicinity today and Wednesday.

The 37 students and four teachers from the Elizabeth Irwin High School, a private school of New York, arrived in Kingston Wednesday on a two-day field trip in charge of Miss Frances Weisbart, the school's trip consultant.

After visits to Island Dock, The Hutton Company brickyard and Knaust mushroom caves, the group was entertained Wednesday evening at the Myron J. Michael School auditorium by a group of eighth grade students from that school. Square dancing and refreshments were part of the program, in which the local students were assisted by the Misses Adiska Conro, Delores Filardi, Ruth Van Orden and Blanche Kirshenblum, faculty members. The visitors stayed overnight at the Mountain View House in Rosendale.

Thursday's program was to include visits to the Senate House and other historic points in Kingston and possibly a tour of the Cement Industry at Cementon and the city water supply facilities of the Ashokan Reservoir.

Local arrangements for the visit were made by Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. The field trip is one of a series conducted by the school in its geography and history training.

New Crop Outlet

Shoals, Ind. (AP)—Norval Bledsoe has found a new outlet for a cash crop on his farm. Recently he sold 2,000 poles from his sassafras tree woods. They were about 4 inches in diameter and 8 to 12 feet long. A steel company bought the poles for use in its puddling operations.

Unlucky Kid Gets 'Breaks'

Haubstadt, Ind. (AP)—Six-year-old Jimmie DeWig gets all the breaks, the bad ones. Jimmie's collarbone and right leg were in casts but that didn't keep him from falling and breaking his left leg. It was the 20th break of his short life. Doctors haven't discovered why his bones are so brittle.

Haircut, Eisenhower Style

The Republican election victory afforded Uncle Vincent Hamrick, 83, a lumberman of Clay, West Va., an excuse to get a hair trim for the first time in eight years. Here he is just before the sniping began, framed by a huge poster of his beloved President-elect Dwight Eisenhower.

1952 GUBERNATORIAL ELECTION—Above Newsmap shows outcome for the 1952 gubernatorial election. The GOP won 20 of the 30 governorships at stake, turning out Democrats in five states. The new lineup of governors for next year will be 30 Republicans and 18 Democrats.

Wild Goat Gets Curious

Columbia Falls, Mont. (AP)—A wild, Rocky Mountain billy-goat apparently decided to butt into the progress of civilization near here recently when he came down from his elevated den for a two-day visit. The billy watched construction workers building a 125-foot tower on a new 230,000-volt power line to Hungry Horse Dam.

'Loud Mouth'

Seremban, Malaya (AP)—The Malayan government is making an attempt to contact Communist guerrillas who wish to surrender through "Loud Mouth," a mobile loudspeaker which roams the jungle tracks and paths with a message of invitation. "Loud Mouth," a name coined by the rural population, tells the Reds they will not be ambushed or killed if they approach the unit. Leaflets are also being showered over the jungles of Negri Sembilan state giving assurance.

Marking Draperies

When it's time to wash or dry-clean your living-room and dining-room draperies mark each one with a different colored thread so you'll know exactly where it should be re-hung. Make a list of your markings, including right and left sides of the windows.
